Target Dresden:

Dresden Frederick Taylor, 2011-11-03 The definitive story of the Dresden bombing      Operation Thunderclap: The Bombing Of Dresden LTC Richard A. Conroy, 2014-08-15 Precision bombing of military targets was a reality in World War II by the end of 1943 By February 1945 the war in Europe was nearly over Why then at that time was the city of Dresden destroyed by allied firebombing In addressing this question the Dresden case study examines the evolution of bombing practices on both sides during the war in Europe Both British and American bombing policies are scrutinized Objectives both military and political served by the Dresden bombing are explained Public reaction to the bombings in the U K and the U S are discussed as well as the reaction of both Governments to those reactions Finally the study examines the doctrine of Just War draws conclusions and provides commentary      Guide to the Royal Collections of Dresden, 1897      Target Dresden Alan Cooper, 1995      The Path Finder Force Martin W. Bowman, 2016-03-30 Charged with the formidable task of locating and marking German targets for attack by the main force of Bomber Command the Path Finder Force 8 PFF Group and those in 5 Group was perhaps the most experienced and highly trained elite group created within the Royal Air Force during World War II Its aircrew members were almost entirely volunteers and despite the terrifying odds against any individual or complete crew ever completing the sixty sorties tour of operations with the PFF the most feared punishment was to forfeit their coveted Path Finder wings and be posted away to other units This remarkable evocation of a remarkable force is made up largely of narrative and photographs from the men who flew with or were an integral part of the PFF They alone are best qualified to recount the Path Finder story While the subject matter herein largely covers the four engined Stirlings Halifaxes and Lancasters and twin engined Mosquitoes of 8 PFF Group the Path Finding techniques used by 5 Group are not forgotten and there are two chapters detailing the work of the Oboe Mosquitoes and other markers in support of the night and day Main Force raids on German and Italian cities and individual targets in the Reich This book is a fitting tribute to the PFF and in particular to the crews who failed to return from the PFF's many operations      The Myth of the Good War Jacques R. Pauwels, 2015-03-06 In the spirit of historians Howard Zinn Gwynne Dyer and Noam Chomsky Jacques Pauwels focuses on the big picture Like them he seeks to find the real reasons for the actions of great powers and great leaders Familiar Second World War figures from Adolf Hitler to Franklin D Roosevelt and Joseph Stalin are portrayed in a new light in this book The decisions of Hitler and his Nazi government to go to war were not those of madmen Britain and the US were not allies fighting shoulder to shoulder with no motive except ridding the world of the evils of Nazism In Pauwels account the actions of the United States during the war years were heavily influenced by American corporations IBM GM Ford ITT and Standard Oil of New Jersey now called Exxon who were having a very profitable war selling oil armaments and equipment to both sides with money gushing everywhere Rather than analyzing Pearl Harbor as an unprovoked attack Pauwels notes that US generals boasted of their success in goading Japan into a war the Americans badly wanted One chilling account describes why President Truman insisted on using nuclear bombs against Japan when there was no military need to do so Another reveals that Churchill instructed his bombers to flatten Dresden and kill thousands when the war was already won to demonstrate British American strength to Stalin Leaders usually cast in a heroic mould in other books about this war look quite different here Nations that claimed a higher purpose in going to war are shown to have had far less idealistic motives The Second World War as Jacques Pauwels tells it was a good war only in myth The reality is far messier and far more revealing of the evils that come from conflicts between great powers and great leaders seeking to enrich their countries and dominate the world

The Revival of Dresden Wolfram Jäger, C. A. Brebbia, 2000 In 1945 towards the end of the Second World War the ancient City of Dresden was destroyed by massive bombardments and much of its rich architectural heritage appeared to have been obliterated forever Over the last half century however Dresden has been lovingly reconstructed with the active collaboration of its citizens This process now culminating in the rebuilding of the Frauenkirche the Church of Our Lady is documented in this unique book Guide through Dresden, its environs and Saxon Switzerland. With ... one map of the city ... and two of Saxon Switzerland, 1870 Dresden 1945 Alexander McKee, 1984 Maps on lining papers Includes index Bibliography p 327 329 Guide to the Royal Collections of Dresden Sammlungen für Kunst und Wissenschaft (Dresden, Germany), 1902 Collier's Short and Practical Guide to Dresden, 1895 Target Dresden Alan Cooper, 2005-09 On the night of February 13 14 796 Lancasters and 9 Mosquitoes of RAF Bomber Command dropped 1 478 tons of high explosive and 1 182 tons of incendiaries on the city A firestorm developed which led to large areas of the city being burned out At the time of the attack Dresden was crowded with refugees fleeing the advancing Soviet Army resulting in between 40 000 and 50 000 casualties On the morning of the 14th a second attack was carried out by the United States Army Air Force with two further US attacks mounted on February 15th and on March 2nd 1945 Why so close to the end of the war should a beautiful city a center for fine art and porcelain with arguably no tactical significance have been so completely obliterated by the British US Air Forces Was Dresden a legitimate target or was it merely a matter that the British and Americans wanted to demonstrate to the advancing Russians the power of their combined air forces Target Dresden chronicles the development of bombing from the earliest days through the Zeppelin and Gotha raids of the First World War to the development of strategic bombing of WWII and examines how it affected post war thinking Packed with facts Target Dresden gives the story behind the raids which were the most controversial conventional bombing attacks of World War Two In Paris and Dresden Richard Wagner, 1898 Forest and Stream, 1893 The Destruction of Dresden/David Irving ; with a Foreword by Sir Robert Saundby David John Cawdell Irving, 1974 Targeting the Third Reich Robert S. Ehlers, 2009 Argues that air intelligence played a crucial but largely overlooked role in the successful execution of the Allied bombing campaigns against the Third Reich which in turn proved a decisive factor in both ending the war in Europe and ending it as soon as it did Zwinger Palace, Dresden John Man, 1990 The Zwinger palace a baroque palace in Dresden was originally built in the 18th century at the behest of Augustus the Strong and was extensively restored after World War II This book examines the original architecture the work of restoration which aimed to replicate the original style and the paintings porcelain and scientific instruments that the palace houses      No Prouder Place David L. Bashow,2005 No Prouder Place provides a fresh and objective look at the bombing campaign by emphasizing the highly significant role it played in defeating the Axis powers It is a story of sustained courage in the face of daunting odds as well as a celebration of the Canadian aircrew experience and its place in wartime Bomber Command The text contains scores of original recollections from the veterans themselves interwoven with material from primary archival and secondary sources It is illustrated with original art work by Ron Lowry including colour side profiles of selected Bomber Command from RCAF units and Luftwaffe aircraft      The galleries of Munich and Dresden Giovanni Morelli,1893      Press Summary - Illinois Information Service Illinois Information Service,1983
