The National Dream:

The National Dream Pierre Berton, 2011-06-22 In 1871 a tiny nation just four years old its population well below the 4 million mark determined that it would build the world's longest railroad across empty country much of it unexplored This decision bold to the point of recklessness was to change the lives of every man woman and child in Canada and alter the shape of the nation Using primary sources diaries letters unpublished manuscripts public documents and newspapers Pierre Berton has reconstructed the incredible decade of the 1870s when Canadians of every stripe contractors politicians financiers surveyors workingmen journalists and entrepreneurs fought for the railway or against it The National Dream is above all else the story of people It is the story of George McMullen the brash young promoter who tried to blackmail the Prime Minister of Marcus Smith the crusty surveyor so suspicious of authority he thought the Governor General was speculating in railway lands of Sanford Fleming the great engineer who invented Standard Time but who couldn't make up his mind about the best route for the railway All these figures and dozens more including the political leaders of the era come to life with all their human ambitions and failings

National Dreams Daniel Francis, 2002-07-01 As Canadians we remember the stories told to us in high school history class as condensed images of the past the glorious Mountie the fearsome Native the Last Spike National Dreams is an incisive study of the most persistent icons and stories in Canadian history and how they inform our sense of national identity the fundamental beliefs that we Canadians hold about ourselves National Dreams is the story of our stories the myths and truths of our collective past that we first learned in school and which we carry throughout our adult lives as tangible evidence of what separates us from other nationalities Francis examines various aspects of this national mythology in which history is as much storytelling as fact Textbooks were an important resource for Francis For me these books are interesting not because they explain what actually happened to us but because they explain what we think happened to us For example Francis documents how the legend of the CPR as a country sustaining national affirming monolith was created by the company itself a group of capitalists celebrating the privately owned railway albeit one which was generously supported with public land and cash and reiterated by most historians ever since Similarly we learn how the Mounties were transformed from historical police force to mythic heroes by a vast army of autobiographers historians novelists and Hollywood filmmakers with little attention paid to the true role of the force in such incidents as the Bolshevik rebellion in which a secret conspiracy by the Government against its people was conducted through the RNWMP Also revealed in National Dreams are the stories surrounding the formation and celebration of Canadian heroes such as Louis Riel and Billy Bishop

National Matters Geneviève Zubrzycki, 2017-05-09 National Matters investigates the role of material culture and materiality in defining and solidifying national identity in everyday practice Examining a range of things from art objects clay fragments and broken stones to clothing food and urban green space the contributors to this volume explore the importance of matter in making the nation appear real close and important to its citizens Symbols and material objects do not just reflect the national visions deployed by elites and consumed by the masses but are themselves important factors in the production of national ideals Through a series of theoretically grounded and empirically rich case studies this volume analyzes three key aspects of materiality and nationalism the relationship between objects and national institutions the way commonplace objects can shape a national ethos and the everyday practices that allow individuals to enact and embody the nation In giving attention to the agency of things and the capacities they afford or foreclose these cases also challenge the methodological orthodoxies of cultural sociology Taken together these essays highlight how the material turn in the social sciences pushes conventional understanding of state and nation making processes in new directions

Recasting History Monica MacDonald, 2019-06-15 Since 1952 CBC television has played a unique role as the primary mass media purveyor of Canadian history Yet until now there have been no comprehensive accounts of Canadian history on television Monica MacDonald takes us behind the scenes of the major documentaries and docudramas broadcast on the CBC including in Explorations 1956 64 and the series Images of Canada 1972 76 The National Dream 1974 The Valour and the Horror 1992 and Canada A People's History 2000 02 Drawing on a wide range of sources MacDonald explores how producers struggled to represent the Canadian past under a range of external and internal pressures Despite dramatic shifts in the writing of history over this period she determines that television themes and interpretations largely remained the same The greater change was in the production and presentation particularly in the role of professional historians as journalists emerged not only as the new producers of Canadian history on CBC television but also as the new content authorities A critique of public history through the lens of political economy Recasting History reveals the conflicts compromises and controversies that have shaped the CBC version of the Canadian past
