Talking Back: Citizen Feedback and Cable Technology Ithiel de Sola Pool, 1973 the second section deals with the technology and economics of the system the final section explores the possibilities of interactive two way cable communication and the ways it can be used to encourage group dialogue and register social choice Talking Back, 1973

From Warfare to Welfare Jennifer S. Light, 2005-09-19 During the early decades of the Cold War large scale investments in American defense and aerospace research and development spawned a variety of problem solving techniques technologies and institutions From systems analysis to reconnaissance satellites to think tanks these innovations did not remain exclusive accessories of the defense establishment Instead they readily found civilian applications in both the private and public sector City planning and management were no exception Jennifer Light argues that the technologies and values of the Cold War fundamentally shaped the history of postwar urban America From Warfare to Welfare documents how American intellectuals city leaders and the federal government chose to attack problems in the nation s cities by borrowing techniques and technologies first designed for military engagement with foreign enemies Experiments in urban problem solving adapted the expertise of defense professionals to face new threats urban chaos blight and social unrest Tracing the transfer of innovations from military to city planning and management Light reveals how a continuing source of inspiration for American city administrators lay in the nation s preparations for war The Prospect of Internet Democracy Michael Margolis, Gerson Moreno-Riaño, 2016-02-24 The internet opens up new opportunities for citizens to organize and mobilize for action but it also provides new channels that established political social and economic interests can use to extend their powers Will the internet revolutionize politics The Prospect of Internet Democracy is a rich and detailed exploration of the theoretical implications of the internet and related information and communication technologies ICTs for democratic theory Focusing in particular on how political uses of the internet have affected or seem likely to affect patterns of influence among citizens interest groups and political institutions the authors examine whether the internet s impact on democratic politics is destined to repeat the history of other innovative ICTs The volume explores the likely long term effects of such uses on the conduct of politics in the USA and other nations that declare themselves modern democracies and assesses the extent to which they help or hinder viable democratic governance Civic Virtues Richard Dagger, 1997-06-19 Although few want to deny their importance many political theorists have recently complained that too much weight is now attached to individual rights The result as they see it is an excessive individualism that blinds people to the needs of the community or state to which they belong We should be less concerned with our rights in their view and more concerned with our responsibilities Those who advance this view typically argue against liberalism In Civic Virtues the newest addition to the distinguished Oxford Political Theory series Richard Dagger takes a different approach Finding the proper relationship between rights and responsibilities requires us not to choose between liberalism and republicanism he argues but to unite them in a republican form of liberalism

Is such a marriage of republicanism and liberalism possible Is it desirable Dagger demonstrates how republican liberalism proceeds from a fundamental right of autonomy to the recognition of interdependence and reciprocity and on to the cultivation of the civic virtues of the public spirited citizen Indeed republican liberalism promises not only to reconcile individual rights and civic duties but to enhance political deliberation and the sense of community as well Electrified Democracy Andrew Blick,2021-07 An examination in historical context of the approach the UK Parliament has taken towards the Internet and its wider implications The Control Revolution How The Internet Is Putting Individuals In Charge And Changing The World We Know Andrew L. Shapiro,1999 Dissidents around the world use the Internet to evade censorship and get their message out Electronic Commonwealth Jeffrey B. Abramson,1990-05-02 A study of new technologies and their influences on American politics Science, Technology and Society ,1982 Sightlines ,1974 Digital Destiny Jeff Chester,2007 With the explosive growth of the Internet and broadband we now have the potential for a truly democratic media system offering a wide variety of independent sources of news and information with control over content in the hands of the many rather than a few select media giants But powerful communications companies have other plans the big cable TV and Internet providers are using their political clout to gain ever greater control over the Internet How does this new media system function What is at stake And what can we do to fight it Policy and Program Planning Robert R. Mayer,1985 Environmental Impact Assessment Marlan Blissett,1976 American Book Publishing Record ,1977-03-31 Here s quick access to more than 490 000 titles published from 1970 to 1984 arranged in Dewey sequence with sections for Adult and Juvenile Fiction Author and Title indexes are included and a Subject Guide correlates primary subjects with Dewey and LC classification numbers These cumulative records are available in three separate sets Public Administration Series--Bibliography ,1978 ASME Technical Papers ,1976 Potential Favorability Towards Telecommuting Maureen Elena Beninson,1978 Television Network News William C. Adams,Fay C. Schreibman,1978 Making News Martin Mayer,1993 In this incisive analysis bestselling author Martin Mayer traces the strengths and limitations of the news industry Detailing the history of news coverage from the first newspapers through the introduction of radio and TV Mayer illustrates how technological innovations have improved the ability to reach more people with more immediacy A Resource for the Active Community Canadian Radio-Television Commission.
