Software Theory Federica Frabetti,2014-11-17 The cultural and philosophical study of software is crucial both within and outside of the university at an international level and across disciplines Software is increasingly considered the focus of digital media studies because of the perceived need to address the invisibility ubiquity and power of digital media Yet software remains quite obscure to students and scholars in media studies the social sciences and the humanities This unique book engages directly in close readings of technical texts and computer code in order to show how software works and in what sense it can be considered constitutive of culture and even of human thought Federica Frabetti combines this with an engagement with thinkers such as Bernard Steigler and Jacques Derrida to problematize the very nature of the conceptual system on which software is based and which has shaped its historical evolution The book argues for a radical demystification of software and digital technologies by addressing the mystery that surrounds its function and that affects our comprehension of its relationship between technology philosophy culture and society A List of Things That Didn't

Kill Me Jason Schmidt,2015-01-06 Jason Schmidt wasn't surprised when he came home one day during his junior year of high school and found his father Mark crawling around in a giant pool of blood Things like that had been happening a lot since Mark had been diagnosed with HIV three years earlier Jason's life with Mark was full of secrets about drugs crime and sex If the straights people with normal lives ever found out any of those secrets the police would come Jason's home would be torn apart So the rule since Jason had been in preschool was never to tell the straights anything A List of Things That Didn't Kill Me is a funny disturbing memoir full of brutal insights and unexpected wit that explores the question How do you find your moral center in a world that doesn't seem to have one The Incredible Human Journey Alice Roberts,2010-04-05

Alice Roberts has been travelling the world from Ethiopian desert to Malay peninsula and from Russian steppes to Amazon basin in order to understand the challenges that early humans faced as they tried to settle continents On her travels she has witnessed some of the daunting and brutal challenges our ancestors had to face mountains deserts oceans changing climates terrifying giant beasts and volcanoes But she discovers that perhaps the most serious threat of all came from other humans When our ancestors set out from Africa there were already two other species of human on the planet Neanderthal in Europe and Homo erectus in Asia Both contrary to popular perception were intelligent adept at making tools and weapons and were long adapted to their environments So Alice asks why did only Homo sapiens survive Part detective story part travelogue and drawing on the latest genetic and archaeological discoveries Alice examines how our ancestors evolved physically in response to these challenges finding out how our colour shape size diet disease resistance and even athletic ability have been shaped by the range of environments that our ancestors had to survive She also relates how astonishingly closely related we all are As a lecturer in Anatomy at Bristol University Alice Roberts is eminently qualified to write this book As a talented artist she is perfectly qualified to illustrate it and dotted throughout this lively book are many of the sketches and photographs from her travels The Geology of the Coast South of Berwick-on-Tweed William Gunn,1897 Uncanny Magazine Issue 23 Sam J.
