This volume comprises the proceedings of a NATO Advanced Study Institute held at Geilo Norway April 6-16 1999. The ASI was the fifteenth in a series held biannually on topics related to cooperative phenomena and phase transitions in this case applied to soft condensed matter and its configurations dynamics and functionality. It addressed the current experimental and theoretical knowledge of the physical properties of soft condensed matter such as polymers gels complex fluids colloids granular materials and biomaterials. The main purpose of the lectures was to obtain basic understanding of important aspects in relating molecular configurations and dynamics to macroscopic properties and biological functionality. To our knowledge the term Soft Condensed Matter was actually coined and used for the first time in 1989 at Geilo and some selected topics of soft matter were also given at Geilo in 1991 1993 and 1995. A return to this subject 10 years after its instigation thus allowed a fresh look and a possibility for defining new directions for research.

Packing Problems in Soft Matter Physics Ho-Kei Chan, Stefan Hutzler, Adil Mughal, Corey S O'Hern, Yujie Wang, Denis Weaire, 2025-08-27. Packing problems which are concerned with optimal arrangements of objects in space are cross disciplinary in nature and are encountered in mathematics physics chemistry biology engineering and architecture. Such problems form a subject of interest in its own right providing intriguing intellectual challenges but are also at the heart of many material properties of condensed matter. In view of this a series of international conferences on packing problems was launched in 2012 to provide a platform for soft matter researchers to disseminate their findings. To continue the spirit of this conference series this international community of researchers has also been invited to contribute reviews of their research to this book. Covering topics on models of ordered and disordered packings mechanical behaviour of packings and applications.
