Sojourner Truth A Self Made Woman:

Sojourner Truth Victoria Ortiz, 1986-04-01 A brief biography of the northern slave who after gaining her freedom became the first black woman to give antislavery lectures in the United States

Children's Biographies of African American Women Sara C. VanderHaagen, 2018-11-15 A study of how rhetoric has shaped the life stories of African American role models in children's literature In Children's Biographies of African American Women Rhetoric Public Memory and Agency Sara C VanderHaagen examines how these biographies encourage young readers to think about themselves as agents in a public world Specifically VanderHaagen illustrates how these works use traditional means to serve progressive ends and thereby examines the rhetorical power of biography in shaping identity and promoting public action Drawing on scholarship in rhetoric memory studies and children's literature VanderHaagen presents rhetorical analyses of biographies of three African American women poet Phillis Wheatley activist Sojourner Truth and educator turned politician Shirley Chisholm published in the United States during the twentieth and twenty first centuries VanderHaagen begins by analyzing how biographical sketches in books for black children published during the 1920s represent Wheatley and Truth The study then shifts to books published between 1949 and 2015 VanderHaagen uses a concept adapted from philosopher Paul Ricoeur the idea of the agential spiral to chart the ways that biographies have used rhetoric to shape the life stories of Wheatley Truth and Chisholm By bringing a critical rhetorical perspective to the study of biographies for children this book advances the understanding of how lives of the past are used persuasively to shape identity and encourage action in the contemporary public world VanderHaagen contributes to the study of rhetoric and African American children's literature and refocuses the field of memory studies on children's biographies a significant but often overlooked genre through which public memories first take shape

The Narrative of Sojourner Truth Olive Gilbert, 1881

Narrative of Sojourner Truth Olive Gilbert, 1878 Sojourner Truth 1795 1883 was originally a Dutch speaking slave in Hurley New York Ulster County who became one of the nineteenth century's most eloquent voices for the causes of anti slavery and women's rights This work includes several important texts about her life beginning with a dictated autobiography In it she tells of her early life in slavery and how she did not officially achieve freedom until 1827 under New York State's Anti Slavery Act The children she bore as a slave were taken from her and it was her successful efforts to reclaim her son Peter who had been illegally sold out of state that brought her into contact with anti slavery advocates Moving to New York City she became involved in Evangelical religious and moral reform activities and began preaching at camp meetings around the city By 1832 she had come under the influence of the self styled utopian prophet Matthias whom she helped to support with her savings and labor In 1843 after Matthias's experimental community had failed Truth left New York and traveled through Long Island Connecticut and Massachusetts singing and speaking out about public and religious issues She lived for a time at the utopian Northampton Association of Education and Industry in Florence Massachusetts and after it disbanded in 1846 she dictated

this account of her life's story to help purchase a home there The narrative ends with her 1849 visit to New York to see her daughter and John Dumont her former master who finally acknowledges the evils of slavery The Book of Life amplifies Truth's story with materials emphasizing her anti slavery and women's rights activism Around 1857 she moved to Battle Creek Michigan though after the Emancipation Proclamation 1863 she worked in Washington as a counselor and educator for former slaves through the Freedman's Relief Association and the Freedmen's Hospital She also crusaded for equal treatment for black and white passengers on local street cars In 1874 she returned to Battle Creek to nurse an ill grandson and after his death a year later her own health irreversibly declined Her famous Ain't I a Woman speech addressed to the Woman's Rights Convention in Akron Ohio in 1851 is also included here in a transcription by Mrs Frances D Gage Natality Jennifer Banks,2023-05-02 A gripping exploration of some of society's biggest contradictions Natality is a fascinating read Dana Suskind MD author of Parent Nation An exhilarating exploration of natality a much needed counterpoint to mortality drawing on the insights of brilliant writers and thinkers Birth is one of the most fraught and polarized issues of our time at the center of debates on abortion gender work and medicine But birth is not solely an issue it is a fundamental part of the human condition and alongside death the most consequential event in human life Yet it remains dramatically unexplored Although we have long intellectual traditions of wrestling with mortality few have ever heard of natality the term political theorist Hannah Arendt used to describe birth's active role in our lives In this ambitious revelatory book Jennifer Banks begins with Arendt's definition of natality as the miracle that saves the world to develop an expansive framework for birth's philosophical political spiritual and aesthetic significance Banks focuses on seven renowned western thinkers Arendt Friedrich Nietzsche Mary Wollstonecraft Mary Shelley Sojourner Truth Adrienne Rich and Toni Morrison to reveal a provocative countertradition of birth She narrates these writers own experiences alongside the generative ways they contended with natality in their work Passionately intelligent and wide ranging Natality invites readers to attend to birth as a challenging and life affirming reminder of our shared humanity and our capacity for creative renewal
