La soledad del manager Manuel Vázquez Montalbán, 2013-01-22 Un hombre aparece muerto con unas bragas de mujer en el bolsillo La viuda encarga la investigación del caso a un huelerbragueta gallego un detective privado de complejo pasado Lo que parece ser un ajuste de cuentas sexual se convierte en un ajuste de cuentas político que tiene como fondo la sociedad española a medio camino entre la muerte de Franco y el intento de consolidación democrática Carvalho trata de compensar sus angustias e inhibiciones guisando un salmón de pato a las dos de la madrugada o haciendo el amor con la pasividad de un animal caliente pero escéptico

Fictional Portrayals of Spain's Transition to Democracy Anne L. Walsh, 2017-08-21 This manuscript looks at a selection of narratives published in Spain during the transition to democracy and compares them with more recent publications The main focus here is how fiction brings an extra dimension to the recreation of the past by adding imagination to historical fact One effect of this is to challenge readers or spectators to question the effect the reliability of the narrator has on conviction about the events told By using a specific moment in time Spain's Transition it will be seen that memory history and imagination all blend together to create very different stories but all are linked with the idea that the past will always haunt the present and actions from the past will have far-reaching consequences Texts analysed here include work by Javier Cercas Eduardo Mendoza Manuel Vázquez Montalbán Rosa Montero Arturo Pérez Reverte and Gonzalo Pérez Alba as well as episodes from two popular TV series Cuántame cómo pasó and Protagonistas de la Transición

Investigating Identities, 2009-01-01 Investigating Identities Questions of Identity in Contemporary International Crime Fiction is one of the relatively few books to date which adopts a comparative approach to the study of the genre This collection of twenty essays by international scholars examining crime fiction production from over a dozen countries confirms that a comparative approach can both shed light on processes of adaptation and appropriation of the genre within specific national regional or local contexts and also uncover similarities between the works of authors from very different areas Contributors explore discourse concerning national and historical memory language race ethnicity culture and gender and examine how identity is affirmed and challenged in the crime genre today They reveal a growing tendency towards hybridization and postmodern experimentation and increasing engagement with philosophical enquiry into the epistemological dimensions of investigation Throughout the notion of stable identities is subject to scrutiny While each essay in itself is a valuable addition to existing criticism on the genre all the chapters mutually inform and complement each other in fascinating and often unexpected ways This volume makes an important contribution to the growing field of crime fiction studies and to ongoing debates on questions of identity It will therefore be of special interest to students and scholars of the crime genre identity studies and comparative literature It will also appeal to all who enjoy reading contemporary crime fiction

The Spanish Sleuth

Patricia Hart, 1987 A history of Spanish detective fiction from Alarcón's El clavo published twelve years after Poe's Murders in the Rue Morgue up to the present The presentation of the highly entertaining sleuth characters is based on a detailed examination of the works and in many cases personal interviews with the writers

La soledad del manager Manuel Vázquez Montalbán, 1977

Transatlantic Mysteries William J. Nichols, 2010-12-10

Transatlantic Mysteries presents a comparative study that brings together authors Paco Ignacio Taibo II and Manuel Vázquez Montalbán from two specific political contexts post 1968 Mexico and post Franco Spain who both work in one specific genre noir detective fiction. In this so called age of globalization Spain and Mexico have witnessed an explosion in the production of noir detective fiction which these authors choose purposefully in order to infiltrate the market with formulaic popular literature while simultaneously critiquing the effects of the neoliberal strategies embraced by their countries. By locating themselves at the crossroads where literature meets the market they not only underscore the effects of capital on literary and cultural production but also explore the possibility for their writing to resist the influences of capital and question the role of an intellectual in an era of globalization. At the core of their writing Taibo and Vázquez Montalbán examine the revolutionary possibilities of literature and popular culture to offer a new kind of Marxist project that revitalizes the Left by redefining the role of socially engaged literature in a globalized landscape

Transnational Cinema in Europe Manuel Palacio, Jörg Türschmann, 2013

The attempt to produce films for the international market has led to lively exchanges and meeting points between local and national identity discourses and global processes of identity formation. Co productions alone can no longer be seen as an incentive for national cultural production. Rather it is necessary to regard co productions as a privileged site for an analysis of the relations between identity, nation and culture. Transnational Cinema in Europe is the result of a collaboration of two research groups in Madrid and Vienna. The book consists of articles by members of both research groups as well as by several other experts.

Barcelones/as Andrew J. Deiser, 2005

By examining four novels in this study I explore two important transitions in recent Spanish history: the transition to democracy following the death of Francisco Franco in 1975 and the transformation of Spain from a modern to a postmodern society during the latter half of the twentieth century. More concretely I analyze Terenci Moix's El dia que va morir (1969), Montserrat Roig's El temps de les cireres (1977), Manuel Vázquez Montalbán's Los mares del Sur (1979) and Juan Marsé's El amante bilingüe (1990) in relation to these historical changes. I conduct a three tiered analysis for each novel. First I look at how the novel responds to the political context in which it was published. Second I examine how social conflict between Barcelona's upper and lower classes is inscribed into the novel's narrative. Finally I explore how different narrative features of each novel reveal the historical shift to late capitalism. This study demonstrates that each of these novels creates an imaginary Barcelona that responds to and is shaped by its political, social, economic and cultural surroundings. Moreover when viewed as a whole these narratives show the emergence of a working class consciousness among the immigrants from southern Spain who migrated to Barcelona during the period that spanned from the early 1950s to the early 1970s While this working class consciousness largely remains below the surface of the narratives in El dia que va morir Marilyn and El temps de les cireres it stands at the forefront in Los mares del Sur and El amante bilingüe In addition this study demonstrates that when viewed together these novels reveal that the years surrounding the political transition from dictatorship to democracy in Spain are inextricably bound to the broader historical transition from modernity to postmodernity
