The Insides of the Outsider: Women and the Poetics of Space and Place Mariangela Ugarelli, 2026-01-06 When asked if being a woman had a negative impact on her ability to succeed as a writer Argentine poet Alejandra Pizarnik stated that even if not a physical impediment being a woman in a patriarchal society is a tragedy in itself She followed this comment by saying What matters is what we do with our own tragedies Beyond sex assigned at birth feminized bodies around the world share a similar phenomenological experience which is dictated by a complicated relationship to space Before setting pen to paper the woman writer a monster herself within patriarchal discourse must confront the role society has set for her For a writer in a feminized body thus the act of writing never begins with a tabula rasa but with a refusal and a challenge an ushering out of the supposed eden of the domestic The question of the women writer s space is further exacerbated when considering matters of intersectionality The poetics of space and place change within the confines of different geopolitical structures and their relations amongst each other How do they shift when the center becomes de centered and writing stems not from a place of political power but from the quieted voices of minor literature queer and racialized bodies or subalternized latitudes This volume will attempt to address these questions with input from a diverse group of scholars dealing with an equally diverse corpus North and Latin America converse with Europe while genre literature minor literature and gendered literatures take center stage By taking into account a wide array of cultural objects from poetry and children s literature to Gothic tales and television shows this collection of articles reveals the profound link between space and the female experience through the lens of art and literature

Changing Women, Changing Nation Yajaira M. Padilla, 2012-06-14

Changing Women Changing Nation explores the literary representations of women in Salvadoran and US Salvadoran narratives during the span of the last thirty years This exploration covers Salvadoran texts produced during El Salvador s civil war 1980 1992 and the current postwar period as well as US Salvadoran works of the last two decades that engage the topic of migration and second generation ethnic incorporation into the United States Rather than think of these two sets of texts as constituting separate literatures Yajaira M Padilla conceives of them as part of the same corpus what she calls trans Salvadoran narratives works that dialogue with each other and draw attention to El Salvador s burgeoning transnational reality Through depictions of women in trans Salvadoran narratives Padilla elucidates a story of female agency and nationhood that extends beyond El Salvador s national borders and imaginings

Transit Crime and Sexual Violence in Cities Vania Ceccato,Anastasia Loukaitou-Sideris,2020-05-17 How cities are planned and designed has a major impact on individuals mobility and safety. If individuals feel unsafe in public transportation or on the way to it they may avoid certain routes or particular times of the day. This is problematic since research has also found that in some cities especially those in the Global South a large percentage of women are transit captives. Namely they have relatively less access to non public forms of transportation and are therefore especially reliant on public transport. This issue is important not only because it affects people's safety but also because it influences the long term sustainability of a city. In a sustainable city safety guarantees the ability to move freely for everyone and provides a wider sense of place attachment. Transit Crime and Sexual Violence in Cities examines the evidence of victimization in transit environments in countries around the world exploring individuals feelings of perceived safety or lack thereof and the necessary improvements that can make transit safer and hence cities more sustainable. The book's contributions are grounded in theories at the crossroads of several disciplines such as environmental criminology, architecture and design, urban planning, geography, psychology, gender and LGBTQI studies, transportation and law enforcement. International case studies include Los Angeles, Vancouver, Stockholm, London, Paris, São Paulo, Mexico City, Bogotá, Tokyo, Guangzhou, Melbourne and Lagos among others.

Deco Body, Deco City Ageeth Sluis, 2016 In the turbulent decades following the Mexican Revolution Mexico City saw a drastic influx of female migrants seeking escape and protection from the ravages of war in the countryside. While some settled in slums and tenements where the informal economy often provided the only means of survival the revolution in the absence of men also prompted women to take up traditionally male roles created new jobs in the public sphere open to women and carved out new social spaces in which women could exercise agency. In Deco Body Deco City Ageeth Sluis explores the effects of changing gender norms on the formation of urban space in Mexico City by linking aesthetic and architectural discourses to political and social developments. Through an analysis of the relationship between female migration to the city and gender performances on and off the stage the book shows how a new transnational ideal female physique informed the physical shape of the city. By bridging the gap between indigenismo pride in Mexico's indigenous heritage and mestizaje privileging the ideal of race mixing this new female deco body paved the way for mestizo modernity. This cultural history enriches our understanding of Mexico's postrevolutionary decades and brings together social, gender, theater and architectural history to demonstrate how changing gender norms formed the basis of a new urban modernity.
