A Solomon Islands Chronicle

Solomon Islands Chronicle

Samuel Alasa'a

Solomon Islands Chronicle:

A Solomon Islands Chronicle Samuel Alasa'a, 2001 Alasa's words form the core of this book presenting one man's perspective on the history of his people. However, this introduces a broader view of the past based on other sources interpreting Alasa's account for those unfamiliar with his cultural background and contributing different historical perspectives both local and colonial. The editors have drawn on oral history, anthropological research, and archival records to present a man-sided account of a rich and complex Pacific Islands history. Alasa's narrative is printed in both Kwara'ae and English with 58 black and white illustrations. BOOK JACKET The American Philatelist, 1911 Athenaeum and

Lal, 2015-07-29 This book aims to reflect on the experiential side of writing political lives in the Pacific region. The collection touches on aspects of the life writing art that are particularly pertinent to political figures: public perception and ideology, identifying important political successes and policy initiatives, grappling with issues like corruption and age-old political science questions about leadership and dirty hands. These are general themes but they take on a particular significance in the Pacific context and so the contributions explore these themes in relation to patterns of colonisation and the memory of independence issues elliptically captured by terms like culture and tradition, the nature of self presented in Pacific life writing, and the tendency for many of these texts to be written by outsiders or at least the increasingly contested nature of what that term means. Art, Observation, and an Anthropology of Illustration Max Carocci, Stephanie Pratt, 2022-06-02

Art, Observation, and an Anthropology of Illustration examines the role of sketches, drawings, and other artworks in our understanding of human cultures of the past. Bringing together art historians and anthropologists, it presents a selection of detailed case studies of various bodies of work produced by non-Western and Western artists from different world regions and from different time periods, from Native North America, Cameroon, and Nepal to Italy, Solomon Islands, and Mexico, to explore the contemporary relevance and challenges implicit in artistic renditions of past peoples and places. In an age when identities are partially constructed on the basis of existing visual records, the book asks important questions about the nature of observation and the inclusion of culturally relevant information in artistic representations. How reliable are watercolours, paintings, or sketches for the understanding of past ways of life? How do old images of bygone peoples relate to art, historical, and anthropological canons? How have these images and technologies of representation been used to describe, illustrate, or explain unknown realities? The book is an essential tool for art historians, anthropologists, and anyone who wants to understand how the observation of different realities has impacted upon the production of art and visual cultures.

Incorporating current methodological and theoretical tools the 10 chapters collected here expand the area of connection between the disciplines of art history and anthropology bringing into sharp focus the multiple intersections of objectivity evidence and artistic licence
