

THE ANATOMY OF NATURE

Geology & American Landscape Painting, 1825–1875

The background of the cover is a large, detailed landscape painting. It depicts a vast, deep canyon with steep, layered rock walls. A powerful waterfall cascades down the center of the canyon, creating a bright white spray at its base. The rock faces are illuminated with warm, golden-yellow and orange light, suggesting a sunrise or sunset. Dark green evergreen trees are scattered across the canyon's rim and on some of the lower slopes. In the lower-left foreground, a small group of people stands on a rocky outcrop, looking out over the immense landscape. The overall style is characteristic of 19th-century American landscape painting, emphasizing the grandeur and beauty of the natural world.
