The Annual Of Psychoanalysis Annual Of Psychoanalysis:

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 32 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-05-13 Psychoanalysis and Women Volume 32 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis is a stunning reprise on theoretical developmental and clinical issues that have engaged analysts from Freud on. It begins with clinical contributions by Joyce McDougall and Lynne Layton, two theorists at the forefront of clinical work with women. Jessica Benjamin, Julia Kristeva, and Ethel Spector Person, from their respective vantage points, all engage the issue of passivity which Freud tended to equate with femininity. Employing a self-psychological framework, Christine Kieffer returns to the Oedipus complex and sheds new light on the typically Pyrrhic oedipal victory of little girls. Section III broadens the historical context of contemporary theorizing about women by offering the personal reminiscences of Nancy Chodorow, Carol Gilligan, Brenda Solomon, and Malkah Notman. A final section dedicated to women who shared psychoanalysis features historical essays on Ida Bauer, Freud's Dora, Anna Freud, Dorothy Burlingham, Edith Jacobson, and Therese Benedek, along with Linda Hopkins's revealing interview of Marion Milner. Of special note is Marian Tolpin's examination of three women: Bauer, Helene Deutsch, and Anna Freud, who helped shape Freud's notion of the female castration complex, and Elisabeth Young Bruehl's exploration of how two women, Anna Freud and Dorothy Burlingham, developed parent-infant observation. Psychoanalysis and Women is an extraordinary chronicle of the distance traveled since Freud characterized women's sexual life as the dark continent. The contributors vitalize a half-century of theory with the lessons of biography, and they broaden clinical sensibilities by drawing on recent developmental, gender-related, and socio-psychological research. In doing so, they attest to the ongoing reconfiguration of Freud's dark continent and show the psychoanalytic psychology of women to be very much a revolution in progress. The Annual of Psychoanalysis The Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis, 1973 The Annual of Psychoanalysis Chicago Institute for Psychoanalysis Staff, 1973 The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 31 Jerome A. Winer, James W. Anderson, 2013-09-05 In 1958, William L. Langer, in a well-known presidential address to the American Historical Association, declared the informed use of psychoanalytic depth psychology as the next assignment for professional historians. Psychoanalysis and History, volume 31 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis, examines the degree to which Langer's directive has been realized in the intervening 45 years. Section I makes the case for psychobiography in the lives of historical figures and exemplifies this perspective with analytically informed studies of the art of Wassily Kandinsky, the films of Stanley Kubrick, and the anti-Semitism of Adolf Hitler. Section II reviews Freud's own psychohistorical contributions and then considers the relevance to historical inquiry of the more recent perspectives of Winnicott, Kernberg, and Kohut. Section III explores an intriguing tributary of psychobiographical inquiry: the impact of the biographer's own subjectivity on his or her work. Section IV turns to a topic of perennial interest: the psychobiographical study of American presidents. Section V turns to the special challenges of applying psychoanalysis to topics of religious history and includes topical studies of religious figures as disparate as the 15th-century Asian Drukpa Kunley and Osama bin

Laden Section VI focuses on the recent extension of psychohistorical inquiry to groups of people and to cultural phenomena more generally an investigation of the youth movement in pre Nazi Germany consideration of how societies no less than individuals reenact and work through traumas over time and an outline of the role of analysis in constructing a depth psychological social psychology of use to historians These papers no less than those that precede them are compelling testimony to the claim with which editors James William Anderson and Jerome A Winer begin the volume to wit that Psychoanalysis would seem to be a resource indispensable to the study of history The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 18 Jerome A. Winer, 2014-05-12 A highlight of Volume 18 is two developmental studies that attempt to situation psychoanalysis within the landscape of contemporary science R Galatzer Levy and B Cohler s examination of the developmental psychology of the self and F Levin s consideration of psychological development and the changing organization of the Brain Clinical studies focus on analytic stalemate J G Maguire the dream screen transference D Edelstein and varieties of therapeutic alliance B Brandchaft and R Stolorow The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 20 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 20 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis ably traverses the analytic canvas with sections on Theoretical Studies Clinical Studies Applied Psychoanalysis and Psychoanalysis and Philosophy The first section begins with Arnold Modell s probing consideration of the paradoxical nature of the self provocatively discussed with John Gedo Modell focuses on the fact that the self is simultaneously public and private dependent and autonomous Alice Rosen Soref next explores innate motivation and self protective regulatory processes from the standpoint of recent infancy research her notion of a lifelong two track model of self and relatedness helps establish a normative baseline that can anchor psychoanalytic theory George Mahl makes an interesting contribution to Freud studies in the form of a new chronology of Freud s works and the number of pages they contain in the Standard Edition The section ends with Robert Galatzer Levy and Mayer Gruber s quasi experiment about disgust They test and disconfirm the hypothesis that disgust is an affective response to an abstract sense of disorder rather than a transformation of a concrete bodily experience by systematically exploring references to concepts of disgust in the Old Testament Section II on Clinical Studies opens with Henry Smith s fascinating elaboration of Freud s notion of screen memories into a theory of screening that denotes the general process by which mental content is organized He illustrates his thesis by invoking the screen language employed by a patient throughout her analysis Ernest Wolf next explores the tension between being a scientist and a healer in Freud and his followers to illuminate struggles within the psychoanalytic movement and to help account for current attitudes toward abstinence neutrality and gratification Kenneth Newman focuses on this same triptych of technical precepts He argues in the spirit of Winnicott and Kohut that analysts can only alter the hostile internal environments of their patients by becoming usable objects and cultivating an optimally responsive analytic environment A particularly rich collection of applied analytic studies forms Section III of the volume Individual chapters focus on the childhood of Vincent van Gogh W W Meissner the psychological healing process depicted in George Eliot s Silas

Marner Richard Almond the self psychological meaning of blood brotherhood in D H Lawrence s Women in Love James Cowan ecstatic mysticism in the 19th century Indian saint Sri Ramakrishna Sudhir Kakar the disintegration of the Tyrone family in Eugene O Neill s Long Day s Journey into Night Frank and Annette Lachmann and the nature and analytic significance of Freud s aesthetic response to Michelangelo s Moses Gary Goldsmith Finally in Section IV George Brook examines the commonsense psychological knowledge of everyday life that is the nonpsychoanalytic knowledge on which much of clinical psychoanalysis ultimately depends Taken together the four sections of Volume 20 of The Annual offer an exciting overview of contemporary psychoanalysis Section I highlights recent trends in psychoanalytic theorizing and the testing of psychoanalytic propositions Section II explores the relevance of new theoretical perspectives to clinical work Section III demonstrates the applicability of these new perspectives to psychobiographical and literary analysis and Section IV provocatively explores the points of connection between everyday ideas and attitudes and the tenets of psychoanalytic practice

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 17 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 17 the first volume of The Annual published by The Analytic Press includes John Gedo s examination of the epistemology of transference and Edwin Wallace s outline of a phenomenological and minimally theoretical psychoanalysis Studies in applied psychoanalysis focus on the art of Edvard Munch Mavis and Harold Wylie George Eliot s Romolo Jerome Winer and psychoanalysis and music Martin Nass

psychobiologically sophisticated psychoanalysis should be followed by contributions that testify to the explanatory vitality of psychoanalysis with respect to issues of literature art and creativity

The Annual of Psychoanalysis, V. 22 Jerome A. Winer, 2013-05-13 Volume 22 of The Annual of Psychoanalysis begins with the provocative reflections of Jane Flax and Robert Michels on the current status and future prospects of psychoanalysis a century after Freud Flax believes that analysis will not survive in the postmodern West if analysts cling to the medical model and the notion of analysis as a clinical science Michels believes analysis will be revived in the next century by reorganizing its training institutes within universities A section on Psychoanalysis and the Visual Arts includes John Gedo's probing examination of the inner world of Paul Gauguin and William Meissner's reflections on Vincent van Gogh as artist Johann Michael Rotmann's examination of the transferential meanings of third party payment within Germany's health insurance system is a timely consideration of issues that are increasingly salient for American analysts and therapists A rich harvest of theoretical and clinical papers rounds out this volume of The Annual In A Time of Questioning Leon Wurmser responds to the inner and outer challenges before analysis in a closely reasoned defense of the applicability of classical analytic technique to severely disturbed patients Michael Hoit examines the noninterpretive interactive aspects of the analytic relationship arguing that the analyst's noninterpretive activities are intrinsic to treatment and must be incorporated into the theory of therapeutic action In Fables as Psychoanalytic Metaphors Elaine Caruth describes some psychoanalytic metaphors contained within the lessons of the Aesopian fables proposing that the fables address interpersonal and group conflicts that often involve moral issues Wilma Bucci offers her multiple code theory as a new model of emotion and mind based on current theory and research in cognitive science that can account for clinical concepts and provide coherent framework for empirical research And Ralph Roughton uses the case history of Laura to underscore the central role of repetition and interaction in the analytic process Volume 22 will not disappoint readers of this distinguished continuing series Like its predecessors it is a thoroughly assembled collection responsive to the conceptual clinical and institutional challenges now before the field
