The Art Of Life Studies In American Autobiographical Literature:

The Art of Life Mutlu Konuk Blasing, 2014-06-23 Autobiographical literature especially reveals the processes by which writers convert their own historical experience into fictional form and suggests how literary forms function in life This volume defines an original theory of autobiographical writing and provides intriguing analyses of major American works of literature The Art of Life examines the transformation of history into literature in Walden Song of Myself Henry James s Prefaces The Education of Henry Adams Paterson and the poetry of Frank O Hara These works are approached as events in themselves and are analyzed as conversions of form and history fiction and fact and even aesthetics and politics Thus the work of literature is set in the total experience of living and the writer is seen not only as an artist but also as a person in a historical political and cultural environment As well as a creator of literature the writer is viewed as a social psychological and biological being Chapters on the narcissistic economy of Walden the mythicizing of history and personality in Song of Myself the self conscious relation that makes the Prefaces of Henry James the autobiography of an artist the comic perspective of The Education of Henry Adams and the radical innovation of Paterson and O Hara s poetry provide new readings of major American works Each chapter contains some distinct critical insight which not only contributes to but can be relished apart from the book s overarching theoretical argument The Art of Life is a sophisticated theoretical discussion of autobiography with rich psychological philosophical and cultural ramifications

American Autobiography Paul John Eakin, 1991 The first four essays review the major historical periods of American autobiography placing the classic texts of American autobiographical literature from Captain John Smith to Malcolm X in the illuminating context of lesser known contemporary narratives Daniel B Shea writes on colonial America Lawrence Buell on the American Renaissance Susanna Egan on the years after the Civil War and Albert E Stone on the twentieth century The second part of American Autobiography shows the diversity of voices forms audiences and modes of identity in the literature of American autobiography Provocative essays by William Boelhower and Sau Ling Cynthia Wong on immigrant autobiography discuss the changes in the sense of self that occur when strangers come to a strange land Arnold Krupat writes about how American Indians conceptualize the self and about the relationship between oral and written discourse William L Andrews evaluates the strong body of critical theory that has grown up around African American autobiography showing how both the genre and its criticism have responded to contemporary historical pressures Carol Holly explores the model of personal identity that underlies nineteenth century women s autobiographies and Blanche Gelfant examines the narrative and political strategies of Emma Goldman s autobiography especially her use of popular romance and melodrama The last essay offers a more personal perspective on contemporary autobiography a dialogue between Robert and Jane Coles about how they developed their method of eliciting first person oral narratives for their famous Children of Crisis and Women of Crisis series These essays raise theoretical issues that are examined in Paul John Eakin s incisive introduction How do we define a literary genre of protean shape and perplexing cultural multiplicity How do we approach the special problems created by documents that are both historical and literary texts ones that pose difficult questions about truth and representation Most important how is the canon of American autobiography to be constructed and how is its history to be written Tracing that critical history Eakin explains how changing ideas about the mainstream and the marginal have revitalized our retrospective view of American autobiography and opened up new and exciting prospects for today's reader
