Angels and Demons in Art Rosa Giorgi,2005 This illustrated volume analyzes artists representations of angels and demons and heaven and hell from the Judeo Christian tradition and describes how these artistic portrayals evolved over time As with other books in the Guide to Imagery series the goal of this volume is to help decode the symbolic meanings in the masterworks of Western Art The first chapter traces the development of images of the Creation and the Afterworld from descriptions of them in the scriptures through their evolution in later literary and philosophical works The following two chapters examine artists depictions of the two paths that humans may take the path of evil or the path of salvation and the punishments or rewards found on each A chapter on the Judgment Day and the end of the world explores portrayals of the mysterious worlds between life and death and in the afterlife Finally the author looks at images of angelic and demonic beings themselves and how they came to be portrayed with the physical attributes wings halos horns cloven hooves with which we are now so familiar      On the Strange Place of Religion in Contemporary Art James Elkins,2004 Can contemporary art say anything about spirituality John Updike calls modern art a religion assembled from the fragments of our daily life but does that mean that contemporary art is spiritual What might it mean to say that the art you make expresses your spiritual belief On the Strange Place of Religion in Contemporary Art explores the curious disconnection between spirituality and current art This book will enable you to walk into a museum and talk about the spirituality that is or is not visible in the art you see

The Angel Roofs of East Anglia Michael Rimmer,2015-08-27 Shortlisted for the East Anglian Book Awards 2016 It has been estimated that over 90% of England's figurative medieval art was obliterated in the image destruction of the Reformation. Medieval angel roofs, timber structures with spectacular and ornate carvings of angels with a peculiar preponderance in East Anglia, were simply too difficult for Reformation iconoclasts to reach. Angel roof carvings comprise the largest surviving body of major English medieval wood sculpture. Though they are both masterpieces of sculpture and engineering, angel roofs have been almost completely neglected by academics and art historians because they are inaccessible, fixed, and challenging to photograph. The Angel Roofs of East Anglia is the first detailed historical and photographic study of the region's many medieval angel roofs. It shows the artistry and architecture of these inaccessible and little studied medieval artworks in more detail and clarity than ever before and explains how they were made by whom and why. Michael Rimmer redresses the scholarly neglect and brings the beauty, craftsmanship, and history of these astonishing medieval creations to the reader. The book also offers a fascinating new answer to the question of why angel roofs are so overwhelmingly an East Anglian phenomenon but relatively rare elsewhere in the country.

Interaction Between Judaism and Christianity in History, Religion, Art, and Literature Marcel Poorthuis, Joshua Jay Schwartz, Joseph Turner, 2009. This volume contains essays dealing with complex relationships between Judaism and Christianity, taking a bold step assuming that no historical period can be excluded from the interactive process between Judaism and Christianity, conscious or unconscious, as either rejection or appropriation.

The Angel of the Countenance of God Vladislav Andrejev, 2021-03-28. The Angel of the Countenance of God explores the biblical epiphanies of God, their translation into images, their mythological parallels, and their Trinitarian and Christological implications.

American Angels Peter Gardella, 2007. Explores the rich history of angels in America from Spanish colonialism and Puritan culture to modern incarnations found on TV, in movies, in comic books, and on bumper stickers. Finds that Americans have constructed the useful angel as a servant of man rather than an agent of God.
