The American Vein Christopher Wicking, Tise Vahimagi, 1979 Television Directors, Race, and Gender Jonathan J. Cavallero, 2024-07-17 This book challenges the predominant framing of US television as a writer s or producer s medium by suggesting that television directors are a vital component of TV artistry Looking beyond a perspective that favors the narrative and economic aspects of television but undervalues the medium s formal elements the book explores how directors use the visual and aural to contribute layers of meaning that add to the thematic development of television texts Starting from the belief that television aesthetics partially reveal the ways in which directors and their collaborators contribute to the overall thematic development of a program the author offers five case studies that map out the ways that directors have contributed to television drama throughout the medium s approximately 80 year history By devoting special attention to the presence and voices of directors from marginalized backgrounds the book creates opportunities to discuss television from perspectives that emphasize issues of diversity equity and inclusion This original and insightful work will appeal to students and scholars of television studies television production and media production critical media studies media authorship gender studies and race and media Fifties Television William Boddy, 1993 Just a few years in the mid 1950s separated the golden age of television s live anthology drama from Newton Minow s famous vast wasteland pronouncement Fifties Television shows how the significant programming changes of the period cannot be attributed simply to shifting public tastes or the exhaustion of particular program genres but underscore fundamental changes in the way prime time entertainment programs were produced sponsored and scheduled These changes helped shape television as we know it today William Boddy provides a wide ranging and rigorous analysis of the fledgling American television industry during the period of its greatest economic growth programming changes and critical controversy He carefully traces the development of the medium from the experimental era of the 1920s and 1930s through the regulatory battles of the 1940s and the network programming wars of the 1950s Encyclopedia of Television Horace Newcomb, 2014-02-03 The Encyclopedia of Television second edition is the first major reference work to provide description history analysis and information on more than 1100 subjects related to television in its international context For a full list of entries contributors and more visit the Encyclopedia of Television 2nd edition website American Vein (the); directors and directions in television C.
