J. M. Coetzee and the Ethics of Narrative Transgression Alexandra Effe, 2017-08-16 This book is about the metanarrative and metafictional elements of J M Coetzee's novels. It draws together authorship, readership, ethics and formal analysis into one overarching argument about how narratives work the boundary between art and life. On the basis of Coetzee's writing it reconsiders the concept of metalepsis, challenges common understandings of self-reflexive discourse and invites us to rethink our practice as critics and readers. This study analyzes Coetzee's novels in three chapters organized thematically around the author's relation with character, reader and self. Author and character are discussed on the basis of Foe, Slow Man and Coetzee's Nobel lecture He and His Man. Stories featuring the character Elizabeth Costello or the figuration Elizabeth Curren serve to elaborate the relation of author and reader. The study ends on a reading of Summertime, Diary of a Bad Year and Dusklands as Coetzee's engagement with autobiographical writing, analyzing the relation of author and self. It will appeal to readers with an interest in literary and narrative theory as much as to Coetzee scholars and advanced students.

People and Rail Systems John R. Wilson, 2007 Following on from 2005's Rail Human Factors Supporting the Integrated Railway, this book brings together an even broader range of academics and practitioners from around the world to share their expertise and experience on rail human factors. People and Strong Opinions Chris Danta, Sue Kossew, Julian Murphet, 2011-07-14

This new collection of essays on Coetzee examines how his novels create and unsettle literary authority. Its unique contribution is to show how Coetzee provokes us into reconsidering certain basic formal and existential questions such as the nature of literary realism, the authority of the author and the constitution of the human self in a posthumanist setting by consciously revealing the literary theoretical seams of his work. Strong Opinions makes the innovative claim that Coetzee's work is driven not by a sense of scepticism or nihilism but rather by a form of controlled exposure that defines the literary. The essays in the volume variously draw attention to three of Coetzee's most recent and significant experiments in controlled exposure. The first is the exposure of place: Coetzee's decision to set his novels in his newly adopted country of Australia. The second is the exposure of form: Coetzee's direct, almost essayistic address of literary philosophical topics within his novels. And the third is the exposure of limits: Coetzee's explicit deconstruction of the traditional limits of human life.

Slow Man J. M. Coetzee, 2006 Paul Rayment is on the threshold of a comfortable old age when a calamitous cycling accident results in the amputation of a leg. Humiliated, his body truncated, his life circumscribed, he turns away from his friends. He hires a nurse named Marijana, with whom he has a European childhood in common: hers in Croatia, his in France. Tactfully and efficiently, she ministers to his needs. But his feelings for her and for her handsome teenage son are complicated by the sudden arrival on his doorstep of the celebrated Australian novelist Elizabeth Costello, who threatens to take over the direction of his life and the affairs of his heart. Unflinching in its vision of suffering and generous in its portrayal of the spirit of care, SLOW MAN is a masterful work of fiction by one of the world's greatest writers.

House Painting and Decorating ... A. Ashmun Kelly, Frederick Maire, Arthur Seymour Jennings, 1893 Literature and Disability Alice Hall, 2015-08-11 Literature and Disability introduces readers to the field of disability studies and the ways in which a focus on issues of impairment and the representation of disability can provide new approaches to reading and writing about literary texts. Disability plays a central role in much of the most celebrated literature, yet it is only in recent years that literary criticism has begun to consider the aesthetic, ethical and literary challenges that this poses. The author explores key debates and issues in disability studies today, different forms of impairment with the aim of showing the diversity and ambiguity of the term disability, the intersection between literary critical approaches to disability and feminist, post-colonial and autobiographical writing, genre and representations of disability in relation to literary forms including novels, short stories, poems, plays and life writing. This volume provides students and academics with an accessible overview of literary critical approaches to disability representation.

It is worse than that, it is a murderous fraud. For Von Holzen's new system of making malgamite is not new at all, but an old system revived which was set aside many years ago as too deadly. If it is not this identical system, it is a variation of it. They are producing the stuff for almost nothing at the cost of men's lives. In plain English, it is murder and it must be stopped at any cost. You understand.
