The extent of urban air pollution in Pakistan South Asia s most urbanized country is among the world s most severe significantly damaging human health quality of life and the economy and environment of Pakistan The harm from Pakistan s urban air pollution is among the highest in South Asia exceeding several high profile causes of mortality and morbidity in Pakistan Improved air quality management AQM in Pakistan can have notable economic and health benefits For example the estimated health benefits per dollar spent on cleaner diesel are approximately US 1 1 5 for light duty diesel vehicles and US 1 5 2 4 for large buses and trucks This report advocates that Pakistan allocate resources to AQM because its air quality is severely affecting millions of Pakistanis and because experiences around the world indicate that interventions can significantly improve air quality This report details a broad spectrum of research on Pakistan s AQM challenges and identifies a comprehensive set of steps to improve air quality The research presented here underpins the conclusions that addressing Pakistan s urban air pollution requires coordinated interventions to strengthen AQM build agencies institutional capacity bolster AQM s legal and regulatory framework implement policy reforms and investments and fill knowledge gaps However Pakistan s policy makers face major obstacles including limited financial human and technical resources and can pursue only a few AQM interventions at the same time In the short term Pakistan s AQM should give highest priority to reducing pollutants linked to high morbidity and mortality PM2 5 and precursors like SOx and NOx from mobile sources A second level short term priority could be PM2 5 SOx and emissions of toxic metals from stationary sources An important medium term priority should be mass transportation in major cities controlling traffic and restricting private cars during high pollution episodes A long term priority could be taxing hydrocarbons based on their contribution to greenhouse gases
