Stedman Caters:

Music and Mathematics John Fauvel, Raymond Flood, Robin J. Wilson, 2006 From ancient Greek times music has been seen as a mathematical art and the relationship between mathematics and music has fascinated generations. This work links these two subjects in a manner that is suitable for students of both subjects as well as the general reader with an interest in music.

Akenfield Ronald Blythe, 2016-07-26 In Akenfield vertelt Ronald Blythe het verhaal van een klein dorp in het zuidoosten van Engeland. Het hele dorp komt aan het woord gedurende de winter van 1966-67. Interviewde Blythe de smid, de leraar, de agent, de rechter, de fruitplukkers en de priesters over religie, landbouw, onderwijs, welzijn, het leven en de dood. Het levert niet alleen een ontroerend en volledig portret op van het dorp maar ook van een periode niet eens zo heel lang geleden en toch bijna onvoorstelbaar in onze digitale wereld.

1788.), 1796 The Music of Peter Maxwell Davies Nicholas Jones, Richard McGregor, 2020 Peter Maxwell Davies (1934-2016) was one of the leading international composers of the post-war period as well as one of the most productive. This book provides a global view of his music, integrating a number of resonant themes in the composer's work while covering a representative cross-section of his vast output. His work list encompasses nearly 550 compositions in every established genre. Each chapter focuses on specific major works and offers general discussion of other selected works connected to the main themes. These themes include compositional technique and process, genre, form and architecture, tonality and texture, allusion, quotation and musical critique, and place and landscape. Throughout the book, it is contended that Davies's works are not created in a vacuum but are intimately connected to and are a reflection of the past. This deep engagement occurs on a number of levels, fluctuating and interacting with the composer's own predominantly modernist idiom and evoking a chain of historical resonances. Making sustained reference to Davies's own words, articles and programme notes as well as privileged access to primary source material from his estate, the book illuminates the composer's practices and approaches while shaping a discourse around his music. NICHOLAS JONES is Senior Lecturer in Musicology at Cardiff University. RICHARD MCGREGOR is Emeritus Professor of Music at the University of Cumbria and part-time Lecturer at the Royal Conservatoire of Scotland.
