James, 2020-10-27 Like David James' earlier collection of essays Power Misses: Essays Across Unpopular Culture 1996, the present volume Power Misses II: Cinema Asian and Modern is concerned with popular cultural activity that proposes alternatives and opposition to capitalist media. Now with a wider frame of reference, it moves globally from west to east, beginning with films made during the Korean Democracy Movement and then turning to socialist realism in China and Taiwan, and to Asian American film and poetry in Los Angeles. Several other avant-garde film movements in L.A. created communities resistant to the culture industries centered there, as did elements in the classic New York avant-garde, here instanced in the work of Ken Jacobs and Andy Warhol. The final chapter concerns little-known films about communal agriculture in the Nottinghamshire village of Laxton, the only one where the medieval open field system never suffered enclosure. This survival of the commons anticipated resistance to the extreme and catastrophic forms of privatization, monetization, and theft of the public commonwealth in the advanced form of capitalism we know as neoliberalism.      West of Center Elissa Auther, Adam Lerner, 2012 Recovering the art and lifestyle of the counterculture in the American West in the 1960s and 70s.      CMJ New Music Report, 1999-04-12
