Innovative and Responsible Mining for Inclusive Growth Amalendu Sinha,Bhabesh Chandra Sarkar,Prabhat Kumar Mandal,2025-10-31 Combating the menace of climate change implementing energy transition and living up to strong societal expectations are serious global concerns Strangely the mining activities remain enigmatic to society though mining footprints are omnipresent in most of our household items as well as in many technological breakthroughs. Thus the Mining Sector in particular and the Mineral Sector at large have to be more responsible and responsive to make their contribution to nation building more visible. The stakeholders need to brainstorm to work out the best practices that would recognise them as responsible entrepreneurs. In view of these The Mining Geological and Metallurgical Institute of India MGMI established way back on 16th January 1906 and one of the oldest institutions of this kind in the world is organizing the 11th Asian Mining Congress AMC during October 30-31, 2025 in Kolkata India with the Theme Innovative Responsible Mining for Inclusive Growth. The AMC and International Mining Exhibition IME held concurrently are flagship international events organized by MGMI biennially since its centenary year. This series have provided ample opportunities to all stakeholders including practising engineers, machinery manufacturers, planners, regulators, academicians, scientists and policy makers for sharing their knowledge, experience and expertise and exhibit their products that can benefit the mining and mineral industries not only in the Asian region but also globally. The proceedings of the 11th AMC comprise insightful articles authored by renowned experts and thought leaders from various disciplines. These contributions highlight recent developments and innovations in the mining sector aimed at promoting sustainable practices, enhancing technological cooperation and fostering inclusive growth. This compilation serves as a valuable resource for driving progress in mineral production while exploring new avenues for responsible and sustainable business practices benefitting both the Asian and global mining communities.

Money Pits: British Mining Companies in the Californian and Australian Gold Rushes of the 1850s John Woodland, 2016-04-15. Between 1849 and 1853 shares in nearly 120 public companies to exploit the booming goldfields of California and Australia were offered to the British public. The companies were collectively capitalised at over 15 million but in the end only some 1.75 million was actually raised between 42 of them with only one company surviving what the newspapers of the day described as a gold bubble. This book provides an overview of the entire bubble event, its antecedents and its outcomes. A number of researchers have investigated an earlier boom in the mid 1820s to reopen gold and silver mines in Latin America and several have studied individual company operations of that period. This is the first detailed investigation of the British gold bubble companies of the 1850s and their involvement in the almost simultaneous gold rushes on both sides of the Pacific Ocean.
