Modernity was critically important to the formation and evolution of landscape architecture yet its histories in the discipline are still being written This book looks closely at the work and influences of some of the least studied figures of the era established and less well known female landscape architects who pursued modernist ideals in their designs The women discussed in this volume belong to the pioneering first two generations of professional landscape architects and were outstanding in the field They not only developed notable practices but some also became leaders in landscape architectural education as the first professors in the discipline or prolific lecturers and authors As early professionals who navigated the world of a male dominated intellectual and menial work force they were exponents of modernity In addition many personalities discussed in this volume were either figures of transition between tradition and modernism like Silvia Crowe Maria Teresa Parpagliolo or they fully embraced and furthered the modernist agenda like Rosa Kliass Cornelia Oberlander The chapters offer new perspectives and contribute to the development of a more balanced and integrated landscape architectural historiography of the twentieth century Contributions come from practitioners and academics who discuss women based in USA Canada Brazil New Zealand South Africa the former USSR Sweden Britain Germany Austria France and Italy Ideal reading for those studying landscape history women s studies and cultural geography Comfort in a Lower Carbon Society Elizabeth Shove, Heather Chappells, Loren Lutzenhiser, 2013-09-13 Current expectations and standards of comfort are almost certainly unsustainable and new methods and ideas will be required if there is to be any prospect of a significantly lower carbon society This collection reassesses relationships between people and the multitude of environments they inhabit in the context of increasing carbon intensities of everyday life In this bold and unconventional volume historians sociologists environmentalists geographers and cultural theorists provoke and stimulate debate about the future of comfort in a lower carbon society These contributions are then subject to critical commentary from a range of academic and policy perspectives The result is a book that promotes academic and policy discussion of the environmental consequences of indoor climate change around the world and that offers new perspectives and strategies for moving towards a lower carbon future
