Stephens Journey:

Egyptomania Ronald H. Fritze,2021-02-04 Egyptomania takes us on a historical journey to unearth the Egypt of the imagination a land of strange gods mysterious magic secret knowledge monumental pyramids enigmatic sphinxes and immense wealth Egypt has always exerted a powerful attraction on the Western mind and an array of figures have been drawn to the idea of Egypt Even the practical minded Napoleon dreamed of Egyptian glory and helped open the antique land to explorers Ronald H Fritze goes beyond art and architecture to reveal Egyptomania s impact on religion philosophy historical study literature travel science and popular culture All those who remain captivated by the ongoing phenomenon of Egyptomania will revel in the mysteries uncovered in this book Mexican Travel Writing Thea Pitman,2008 This book is a detailed study of salient examples of Mexican travel writing from the nineteenth and twentieth centuries While scholars have often explored the close relationship between European or North American travel writing and the discourse of imperialism little has been written on how postcolonial subjects might relate to the genre This study first traces the development of a travel writing tradition based closely on European imperialist models in mid nineteenth century Mexico It then goes on to analyse how the narrative techniques of postmodernism and the political agenda of postcolonialism might combine to help challenge the genre s imperialist tendencies in late twentieth century works of travel writing focusing in particular on works by writers Juan Villoro H ctor Perea and Fernando Solana Olivares

Travel Writing in the Nineteenth Century Tim Youngs,2006-09-01 Long popular with a general readership travel writing has in the past three decades or so become firmly established as an object of serious and multi disciplinary academic inquiry Few of the scholarly and popular publications that have focused on the nineteenth century have regarded the century as a whole This broad volume examines the cultural and social aspects of travel writing on Africa Asia America the Balkans and Australasia Catalogue Halifax Nova Scotia, legislative libr,1890

Catalogue of the Library of the Long Island Historical Society, 1863-1893 Long Island Historical Society. Library,1893 Ornamental Nationalism Seonaid Valiant,2017-09-25 In Ornamental Nationalism Archaeology and Antiquities in Mexico 1876 1911 Seonaid Valiant examines the Porfirian government s reworking of indigenous particularly Aztec images to create national symbols She focuses in particular on the career of Mexico s first national archaeologist Inspector General Leopoldo Batres He was a controversial figure who was accused of selling artifacts and damaging sites through professional incompetence by his enemies but who also played a crucial role in establishing Mexican control over the nation s archaeological heritage Exploring debates between Batres and his rivals such as the anthropologists Zelia Nuttal and Marshall Saville Valiant reveals how Porfirian politicians reinscribed the political meaning of artifacts while social scientists both domestic and international struggled to establish standards for Mexican archaeology that would undermine such endeavors Bulletin of the Pan American Union Pan American Union,1941 Chasing Methuselah Todd T. W. Daly,2021-02-04 The quest to live much longer has moved from legend to the laboratory Recent breakthroughs in genetics and pharmacology have put humanity on the precipice of slowing down human aging to extend the healthy life span. The promise of longer healthier life is enormously attractive and poses several challenging questions for Christians. Who wouldn't want to live 120 years or more before dying quickly? How do we make sense of human aging in light of Jesus' invitation to daily take up our crosses with the promise of the resurrection to come? Is there anything wrong with manipulating our bodies technologically to live longer? If so, how long is too long? Should aging itself be treated as a disease? In Chasing Methuselah, Todd Daly examines the modern biomedical anti-aging project from a Christian perspective, drawing on the ancient wisdom of the Desert Fathers who believed that the incarnation opened a way for human life to regain the longevity of Adam and the biblical patriarchs through prayer and fasting. Daly balances these insights with the christological anthropology of Karl Barth, discussing the implications for human finitude, fear of death, and the use of anti-aging technology, weaving a path between outright condemnation and uncritical enthusiasm.

The History of Archaeology Paul Bahn, 2014-01-10. The History of Archaeology: An Introduction provides global coverage with chapters devoted to particular regions of the world. The regional approach allows readers to understand the similarities and differences in the history of and approach to archaeology in various parts of the world. Each chapter is written by a specialist scholar with experience of the region concerned. Thus the book focuses on the earliest beginnings of archaeology in different parts of the world and how it developed from being a pastime for antiquarians and collectors to a serious attempt to obtain information about past societies. Woven into the text are various boxes that explore key archaeologists' sites and important discoveries in the history of archaeology, enriching the story of the discipline's development. With such far-ranging coverage, including an exploration of the little-covered development of Russian and Chinese archaeology, The History of Archaeology is the perfect introduction to the history of archaeology for the interested reader and student alike.

Women, travel and identity Emma Robinson-Tomsett, 2016-05-16. The years between 1870 and 1940 are often considered a golden age of travel as larger and evermore sumptuous ships and trains were built, including the Orient Express, Blue Train, Lusitania and Normandie. Journeying abroad became and remains today synonymous with chic splendour and luxury. Utilising women's diaries and letters, art, advertising, fiction and etiquette guides, this book considers the journey's impact upon understandings of female identity, definitions of femininity, modernity, glamour, class, travel, tourism, leisure and sexual opportunity and threat during this period. It explores women's relationship with train and ship technology, cultural understandings of the journey, public expectations of women journeyers, how women journeyed in practice, their use of journey space, sociability with both Western and Other non-Western journeyers, experience of love, sex and danger during the journey and how women fashioned a journeyer identity which fused their existing domestic identities with new journey identities such as the journey chronicler. The journey is revealed to be an experience of sociability as much as mobility, dominated by ideas of respectability and reputation, class, power, vision and observation, and home as well as the foreign and new.
