

A man with grey hair and a beard, wearing a grey suit and a patterned tie, is leaning towards a woman with long dark hair. The woman is wearing a light-colored, possibly yellow or cream, dress. They are both looking at each other with a serious, intimate expression. The background is dark and out of focus, suggesting an indoor setting with some foliage.

That Obscure Object Of Desire:

When Movies Mattered Dave Kehr, 2011-04-15 If you have ever wanted to dig around in the archives for that perfect Sunday afternoon DVD and first turned to a witty weekly column in the New York Times then you are already familiar with one of our nation's premier film critics. If you love movies and the writers who engage them and just happen to have followed two of the highest circulating daily papers in the country then you probably recognize the name of the intellectually dazzling writer who has been penning pieces on American and foreign films for over thirty years. And if you called the City of the Big Shoulders home in the 1970s or 1980s and relied on those trenchant incisive reviews from the Chicago Reader and the Chicago Tribune to guide your moviegoing delight then you know Dave Kehr. When Movies Mattered presents a wide ranging and illuminating selection of Kehr's criticism from the Reader most of which is reprinted here for the first time including insightful discussions of film history and his controversial Top Ten lists. Long heralded by his peers for both his deep knowledge and incisive style Kehr developed his approach to writing about film from the auteur criticism popular in the 70s. Though Kehr's criticism has never lost its intellectual edge it's still easily accessible to anyone who truly cares about movies. Never watered down and always razor sharp it goes beyond wry observations to an acute examination of the particular stylistic qualities that define the work of individual directors and determine the meaning of individual films. From current releases to important revivals from classical Hollywood to foreign fare Kehr has kept us spellbound with his insightful critical commentaries. When Movies Mattered will secure his place among our very best writers about all things cinematic. Pinter and the Object of Desire Linda Renton, 2002 Harold Pinter was fascinated by film long before the theatre but the importance of his screenplays based on the work of other writers has been overlooked. Renton shows him working from manuscript to final text to engage the spectator in a relationship of desire or anxiety with what is unseen. A newly discovered poem links Pinter to the Surrealists and through the Surrealists to their contemporary the psychoanalyst Jacques Lacan. 1901-81 The present study shows Pinter working differently from mainstream cinema places him at the forefront of film theory and offers a fresh insight into his entire output. Objects of Desire Luis Buñuel, José de la Colina, Tomás Pérez Turrent, Tomás Pérez Turrent, 1992 From 1975 to 1977 Buñuel agreed to undertake a film by film examination of his life and work through a series of interviews conducted with two old friends. This is revised and edited by the author himself just before his death.

Film as Literature, Literature as Film Harris Ross, 1987-06-11 This work discusses the relationship between film and literature explaining and evaluating the issues most frequently raised on the subject. It also lists nearly 2,500 articles and books published from 1908 to 1985 on the comparison of film to drama, fiction and poetry. These comparisons arose shortly after the first appearance of moving pictures as writers attempted to establish the differences between movies and drama. The study has since grown into a significant scholarly concern. Figures of Desire Linda Williams, 1992-01-01 An important contribution to film theory Williams has a fluid assured style. She is clearly in command of the subject. She's made a strong and original argument for the psychoanalytic basis of Surrealism James Monaco author of The New Wave Queering the Canon Christoph Lorey, John L. Plews, 1998 This collection of essays exposes points of queerness marginality and alterity present in the German canon and introduces further deviation from traditional German literature and culture in the form of openly lesbian and gay works It provides new queer analyses of texts by canonical authors such as Goethe Schiller Thomas and Klaus Mann Ingeborg Bachmann Christa Reinig and Elfriede Jelinek yet discusses works that have seldom received scholarly attention It also breaks the traditional limitation of Germanistik to the study of literature by including essays on aspects of German culture such as music film fine art and art history and politics and law The Utne Reader, 1995
