Jessica Jeffrey Von Glahn,2014-03-05 Jessica had always been haunted by the fear that the unthinkable had happened when she had been made up For as far back as she could remember she had no sense of a Self Her mother thought of her as the perfect infant because she never wanted anything and she never needed anything As a child just thinking of saying I need or I want left her feeling like an empty shell and that her mind was about to spin out of control Terrified of who or what she was she lived in constant dread over being found guilty of impersonating a human being Jeffrey Von Glahn Ph D an experienced therapist with an unshakable belief in the healing powers of the human spirit and Jessica blaze a trail into this unexplored territory As if she has in fact become an infant again Jessica remembers in extraordinary detail events from the earliest days of her life events that threatened to twist her embryonic humanness from its natural course of development Her recollections are like listening to an infant who could talk describe every psychologically dramatic moment of its life as it was happening When Dr Von Glahn met Jessica she was 23 Everyone regarded her as a responsible caring person except that she never drove and she stayed at her mother s when her husband worked nights For many months Jessica s therapy was stuck in an impasse Dr Von Glahn had absolutely no idea that she was so terrified over simply talking about herself In hopes of breakthrough she boldly asked for four hours of therapy a day for three days a week for six weeks The mystery that was Jessica cracked open in dramatic fashion and in a way that Dr Von Glahn could never have imagined Then she asked for four days a week and for however long it took In the following months her electrifying journey into her mystifying past brought her ever closer to a final confrontation with the events that had threatened to forever strip her of her basic humanness

The Use of the Object in Psychoanalysis David E. Scharff,2019-06-28 Using Winnicott s classic paper as its starting point this fascinating collection explores a range of clinical and theoretical psychoanalytic perspectives around relating to the object Each author approaches the topic from a different angle switching among the patient s use of others in their internal and external lives their use of their therapist and the therapist s own use of their patients The use of objects is susceptible to wide interpretation and elaboration it is both a normal phenomenon and a marker for certain personal difficulties or even psychopathologies seen in clinical practice While it is normal for people to relate to others through the lens of their internal objects in ways that give added meaning to aspects of their lives it becomes problematic when people live as if devoid of a self and instead live almost exclusively through the others who form their internal worlds often leading them to feel that they cannot be happy until and unless others change Assessing the significance of objects among adult and child patients groups and the group as object and exploring Freud s own use of objects The Use of the Object in Psychoanalysis will be of significant interest both to experienced psychoanalysts and psychotherapists and to trainees exploring important theoretical questions Conversations with James Ellroy Steven Powell,2012-02-01 As a novelist who has spent years crafting and refining his intense and oft outrageous Demon Dog of American Crime Fiction persona James Ellroy has used interviews as a means of shaping narratives outside of his novels Conversations with James Ellroy covers a series of interviews given by Ellroy from 1984 to 2010 in which Ellroy discusses his literary contribution and his public and private image Born Lee Earle Ellroy in 1948 James Ellroy is one of the most critically acclaimed and controversial contemporary writers of crime and historical fiction Ellroy s complex narratives which merge history and fiction have pushed the boundaries of the crime fiction genre American Tabloid a revisionist look at the Kennedy era was Time magazine s Novel of the Year 1995 and his novels L A Confidential and The Black Dahlia were adapted into films Much of Ellroy s remarkable life story has served as the template for the personal obsessions that dominate his writing From the brutal unsolved murder of his mother to his descent into alcohol and drug abuse his sexual voyeurism and his stints at the Los Angeles County Jail Ellroy has lived through a series of hellish experiences that few other writers could claim In Conversations with James Ellroy the author talks extensively about his life his literary influences his persona and his attitudes towards politics and religion In interviews with fellow crime writers Craig McDonald David Peace and others including several previously unpublished interviews Ellroy is at turns charismatic and eloquent combative and enigmatic
