Further Developments in Interpersonal Psychoanalysis, 1980s-2010s Donnel B. Stern, Irwin Hirsch, 2017-12-14 Further Developments in Interpersonal Psychoanalysis 1980s 2010s is the second collection of selected classic articles of the modern era by psychoanalysts identified with the interpersonal perspective The first The Interpersonal Perspective in Psychoanalysis 1960s 1990s presented articles by second and third generation interpersonalists This book contains those written by the third and fourth generation of interpersonal psychoanalysts The articles selected by the Editors for this second book extend the theme of transference and countertransference that was the throughline of the first book lending even greater significance in clinical practice to the analyst's subjectivity and its relation to the patient's mind One chapter after another in this book reveal ways that the analyst's experience can lead to a greater appreciation of the patient's unconscious experience It is because of papers such as these that interpersonal psychoanalysis has been described as the origin at least in North America of the contemporary clinical interest in psychoanalytic subjectivity As in the first the articles in this second book include classic contributions from Bromberg Greenberg Hirsch Mitchell Levenson Stern and Wolstein these writers are joined here by Blechner Bonovitz Buechler Fiscalini Held Weiss Kuriloff and White North American psychoanalysis has long been deeply influenced and substantially changed by clinical and theoretical perspectives first introduced by interpersonal psychoanalysis Yet even today despite its origin in the 1930s many otherwise well read psychoanalysts and psychotherapists are not well informed about the field Along with its companion work this book provides a superb starting point for those who are not as familiar with interpersonal psychoanalysis as they might be For those who already know the literature the book will be useful in placing a selection of classic interpersonal articles and their writers in key historical context Ego

Development for Effective Coaching and Consulting Thomas Binder, 2023-06-12 Both in research and in practice a number of basic competencies are considered necessary for successful process oriented coaching and consulting activities In the present research work the extent to which these necessary competencies are related to vertical personality development was investigated Loevinger's model of ego development a stage theory of development provides the frame of reference for this study This paper fully summarizes the current state of research on the model in order to comprehensively analyze possible relationships with coaching and consulting competencies As a first step the competency requirements of selected coaching and consulting associations were analyzed to determine whether they are related to ego development and whether they express minimum requirements for ego development The analysis revealed that the competency requirements of all associations show clear parallels to aspects of ego development The majority of these requirements point to a fully developed self governed stage E6 of ego development as a prerequisite for process oriented coaching and consulting services In a second step empirical studies were examined to systematically analyze the relationship between ego development and aspects relevant to coaching and consulting The results of the current empirical studies show a clear correlation between these competencies and ego development This means that as ego development increases higher coaching and consulting competencies become more likely Many studies also indicate that a fully developed self governed stage of ego development can be expected as the basis for consistent work at an intermediate level of competence
