The Osprey Dilemma Steve Hayes,1983      The Power Problem Christopher A. Preble,2011-05-15 Numerous polls show that Americans want to reduce our military presence abroad allowing our allies and other nations to assume greater responsibility both for their own defense and for enforcing security in their respective regions In The Power Problem Christopher A Preble explores the aims costs and limitations of the use of this nation s military power throughout he makes the case that the majority of Americans are right and the foreign policy experts who disdain the public s perspective are wrong Preble is a keen and skeptical observer of recent U S foreign policy experiences which have been marked by the promiscuous use of armed intervention He documents how the possession of vast military strength runs contrary to the original intent of the Founders and has as they feared shifted the balance of power away from individual citizens and toward the central government and from the legislative and judicial branches of government to the executive In Preble s estimate if policymakers in Washington have at their disposal immense military might they will constantly be tempted to overreach and to redefine ever more broadly the national interest Preble holds that the core national interest preserving American security is easily defined and largely immutable Possessing vast military power in order to further other objectives is he asserts illicit and to be resisted Preble views military power as purely instrumental if it advances U S security then it is fulfilling its essential role If it does not if it undermines our security imposes unnecessary costs and forces all Americans to incur additional risks then our military power is a problem one that only we can solve As it stands today Washington s eagerness to maintain and use an enormous and expensive military is corrosive to contemporary American democracy

The North Korea Problem Ralph E. Danbert,2018-06-15 North Korea as a nation has been going down the road of self discovery since they were severed from South Korea in 1953 Trying to identify themselves as a world class nation they have built one of the larger armies in today s world This is the road they seem to feel must be taken to attain international stature Most of the rest of the world sees it differently The United States of America becomes aware of North Korea s preparations to attack their homeland and are working toward a better dialog with the them Having no success with diplomacy the United Nations initiate sanctions to pressure the leaders of North Korea to back down with their nuclear and missile development They do not Sanctions present hardships for the people but the leaders think they can force the world to accept them as a nation and they ignore them      Osprey William V.
