Transient Questions Kristjana Gunnars, 2004 Mavis Gallant has been a leading literary figure in Canada since her first short story published in 1951 and has grown to be considered internationally as a modern master of the genre Her writing is nuanced sensitive gifted deep and concise She leaves everything open for the hidden potential that can always be discovered Times change society history politics may develop out of recognition Cultures metamorphose Literary landscapes and theories are renewed But the classics of our time stay where they are pillars of that which is solidly about us Mavis Gallant's work is of that calibre her writing will remain interesting and relevant no matter what else happens This book is an exploration of what Gallant's readers are thinking now where they place her in the panorama of literature and what meaning she has for them now Scholars continue to probe into the stories their characters the capsules of history they present and continue to find them challenging As with Shakespeare no amount of scrutiny will yield the final answer That is how complex Gallant's writing is Especially now when the positioning of her characters is a more prominent condition in general we need to review Gallant's artistic insights As Francine Prose says in Harper's Magazine Gallant's cast of characters are a motley assortment of refugees fugitives and travelers and displaced persons scrambling on the margins of a society they will never belong to This is the modern condition As with other great writers Gallant shows herself to be prophetic in cutting down to the roots of the sensibility of our era We are reading her work and we are thinking about it and talking about it This book is part of that large conversation Contributors are Neil Besner Di Brandt Nicole C t John Lent Gerald Lynch Maria No lle Ng Peter Stevens Simone Vauthier Per Winther

Publishers Weekly on Ray of Hope      Representing the Other in Modern Japanese Literature Rachael

Hutchinson, Mark Williams, 2006-09-27 Representing the Other in Modern Japanese Literature looks at the ways in which authors writing in Japanese in the twentieth century constructed a division between the Self and the Other in their work. Drawing on methodology from Foucault and Lacan, the clearly presented essays seek to show how Japanese writers have responded to the central question of what it means to be Japanese and of how best to define their identity. Taking geographical, racial, and ethnic identity as a starting point to explore Japan's vision of non-Japan, representations of the Other are examined in terms of the experiences of Japanese authors abroad and in the imaginary lands envisioned by authors in Japan. Using a diverse cross section of writers and texts as case studies, this edited volume brings together contributions from a number of leading international experts in the field and is written at an accessible level, making it essential reading for those working in Japanese studies, colonialism, identity studies, and nationalism.      Shakespeare's Werke Shakespeare, 1876

The Forgotten Bible Philip Schaff, 2017-10-02 A collection of texts written in the first couple centuries after the death of Christ. These texts, while not raising new theological issues, are interesting documents to go over in an attempt to study and understand the early years of Christianity and those struggles that the church had to overcome to thrive during the martyrdom started by the Roman emperor Nero and continued by many of his predecessors throughout the years until Constantine. Included in this volume are the Testaments of the Twelve Patriarchs, the various versions of the Gospel of Thomas, the collection of additional Gospels of Peter, and the Revelations of many first church founders such as Peter, John, Paul, Moses, and Esdras. Within the book are many other books.      Engineering, 1875      Cities and Literature Malcolm Miles, 2018-10-03 This book offers a critical introduction to the relation between cities and literature, fiction, poetry, and literary criticism from the late eighteenth to twenty-first centuries. It examines examples of writing from Europe, North America, and post-colonial countries juxtaposed with key ideas from urban, cultural, and critical theories. Cities and Literature shows how literature frames real and imagined constructs and experiences of cities. Arranged thematically, each chapter offers a narrative which introduces a number of key thinkers and writers whose vision illuminates the prevailing idea of the city at the time. The themes are extended or challenged by boxed cases of specific texts or images accompanied by short critical commentaries. The structure provides readers with a map of the terrain, enabling connections across time and place within manageable limits and offers elements of critical discussion to serve a growing number of university courses which involve the intersections of cities and literature. This volume offers access to literature from an urban perspective for the social sciences and access to urbanism from a literary viewpoint. It is an excellent resource for both undergraduate and postgraduate students in the fields of urban studies and English literature, planning, cultural and human geographies, architecture, cultural studies, and cultural policy.      Clark Blaise Clark Blaise, 2016-03-01 This volume represents the first full-scale appreciation of Clark Blaise's writing in more than 25 years and the first comprehensive study of his now more than 20 books Included are previously published essays by among others Robert Lecker Alexander MacLeod Catherine Sheldrick Ross and the volume s editor J R Tim Struthers along with new essays by William Butt Stephen Henighan W H New and Sandra Sabatini as well as a brand new autobiographical essay by Blaise himself As important as these essays are for their insights into Blaise s works they offer something more a rich range of examples showing us how we as readers and as writers can come to understand much more intricately and to practise much more powerfully the art of the essay ourselves
