The Access:

The Access of Individuals to International Justice Antônio Augusto Cançado Trindade, 2011-08-25 This book contends that the right of access to justice at national and international levels constitutes a basic cornerstone of the international protection of human rights and conforms a true right to the Law. It amounts lato sensu to the right to the realization of justice. In such understanding it comprises not only the formal access to a tribunal or judge but also respect for the guarantees of due process of law, the right to a fair trial and to reparations whenever they are due and the faithful execution of judgments. On its part the right to an effective domestic remedy is a basic pillar of the rule of law in a democratic society. In its part the right of international individual petition together with the safeguard of the integrity of international jurisdiction constitute the basic foundations of the emancipation of the individual vis vis his own State. This is a domain that has undergone a remarkable development in recent years. It is submitted that the right of access to justice belongs today to the domain of jus cogens. Without it there is no legal system at all. The protection of the human person in the most adverse circumstances has evolved amongst considerations of ordre public. Such recent evolution has been contributing to the gradual expansion of the material content of jus cogens. Furthermore the very notion of victim encompassing direct, indirect and potential victims has been the subject of a considerable international case law. Victims have had their cause vindicated in situations of utmost adversity if not defencelessness e.g. abandoned or street children, undocumented migrants, members of peace communities in situations of armed conflict, internally displaced persons, individuals in infra-human conditions of detention, surviving victims of massacres.
