Bessler,2003 The first comprehensive history of lynchings and state sanctioned executions in Minnesota Minnesota is one of only twelve states that does not allow the death penalty but that was not always the case In fact until 1911 executions in the state were legal and frequently carried out In Legacy of Violence John D Bessler takes us on a compelling journey through the history of lynchings and state sanctioned executions that dramatically shaped Minnesota s past Through personal accounts of those involved with the events Bessler traces the history of both famous and lesser known executions and lynchings in Minnesota the state s anti death penalty and anti lynching movements and the role of the media in the death penalty debate Bessler reveals Abraham Lincoln thoughts as he ordered the largest mass execution in U S history of thirty eight Indians in Mankato after the Dakota Conflict of 1862 He recounts the events surrounding the death of Ann Bilansky the only woman ever executed in Minnesota and the infamous botched hanging of William Williams which led to renewed calls for the abolition of capital punishment He tells the story of the 1920 lynching in Duluth of three African Americans circus workers wrongfully accused of rape and the anti lynching crusade that followed The significant role that Minnesota played in America s transformation to private after dark executions is presented in the discussion of the midnight assassination law Bessler s account is made more timely by thirty five hundred people on death row in America today more than at any other time in our nation s history Is Minnesota s current approach superior to that of states that have capital punishment Bessler looks at Minnesota history to ask whether the application of the death penalty can truly solve the problem of violence in America BOOK JACKET Title Summary field provided by Blackwell North America Inc All Rights Reserved     The Settlement of America James A. Lincoln and the Sioux Uprising of 1862 Hank H. Cox,2005-07-01 On the bright Sunday morning of August 17 1862 four Sioux warriors emerged from the Big Woods northwest of St Paul Minnesota on their way home from an unsuccessful hunt

When they came upon the homestead of Robinson Jones a white man who ran a post office and general store and offered lodging for travelers the Indians opened fire on the settlers killing almost all of them Soon bands of Sioux were rampaging across southwestern Minnesota attacking farms and trading posts and murdering everywhere they went splitting the skulls of men clubbing children to death raping daughters and wives before disemboweling them cutting off hands breasts and genitals and looting whatever could be taken before setting fire to what remained Perhaps as many as two thousand settlers were brutally massacred although the number has never been firmly established Once the uprising was suppressed 303 Sioux warriors were sentenced to death The people of Minnesota called for their immediate execution a sentiment that matched the national mood Abraham Lincoln suspected that most of those convicted were marginal players in the rebellion and that the worst culprits had escaped and he carefully reviewed each case before selecting the 39 later reduced to 38 men to hang whom he believed to be guilty of the worst crimes The remainder were committed to life in prison I could not hang men for votes he later explained On December 26 the 38 were simultaneously hanged on a gallows construction especially for them The Sioux Uprising of 1862 also known as the Dakota War sounded the first shots of a war that continued for another 28 years culminating in the massacre of Indian women and children at Wounded Knee in 1890 Lincoln's death at the hands of John Wilkes Booth ended his intention to reform the government's Indian policy and both political parties continued to use the system to reward their supporters a practice that largely continues to this day      Harper's New Monthly Magazine
