Analysis Kevin D. Hoover, 2016 Situational analysis also known as situational logic was popularized by Karl Popper as an appropriate method for the interpretation of history and as a basis for a scientific social science. It seeks an objective positive explanation of behavior through imputing a dominant goal or motive to individuals and then identifying the action that would be objectively appropriate to the situation as the action actually taken. Popper regarded situational analysis as a generalization to all of social science of the prototypical reasoning of economics. Applied to history, situational analysis is largely an interpretive strategy used to understand individual behavior. In social sciences, however, it is applied to many types of behavior or to group behavior, e.g. to markets, as is used to generate testable hypotheses. Popper's account of situational analysis and some criticisms that have been levied against it are reviewed. The charge that situational analysis contradicts Popper's view that falsification is the hallmark of sciences is examined and rejected. Situational analysis is precisely how Popper believes social sciences are able to generate falsifiable and therefore scientific hypotheses. Still, situational analysis is in tension with another of Popper's central ideas: situational analysis as a method for generating testable conjectures amounts to a logic of scientific discovery, something that Popper argued elsewhere was not possible.

Adidas Marketing Strategy - An Overview Arkadi Borowski, 2011 Seminar paper from the year 2011 in the subject Business economics Marketing Corporate Communication CRM Market Research Social Media grade 2.0 International Business School Lippstadt language English abstract The Adidas group headquartered in Herzogenaurach, Germany, was built on 18th August 1920 by Adolf Dassler. The brand and its products celebrated their first worldwide success in 1954 after the German team won the soccer world championship. After some commercial disappointments in the middle 80s, the family enterprise had to open up for investors. In 1995 followed the initial public offering on Frankfurt's exchange market. To stay competitive to Nike on the US market, the company had taken over Reebok in 2006. Furthermore, the company has worldwide 169 subsidiaries and had total revenue of 11,990 Mio Euros in 2010. The company uses the image of its brand and the available amount of capital to sponsor many sports events such as soccer championships, Olympic Games or Paralympics and many more. In 2012 Adidas will be the official sportswear partner of the Olympic Games and the Paralympics in London. Additionally, Adidas' high qualified experts and its international network of suppliers make the company a competitive manufacturer of sporting goods.

Quality Improvement of Municipal Solid Wastes Management in Alexandria Governorate Heba Fahmy, 2014-12-09 Master's Thesis from the year 2014 in the subject Environmental Sciences grade Excellent University of Alexandria Faculty of Engineering Production Department course Quality Improvement Tools and Techniques being used in the Analysis of an Environmental Problem language English abstract Environmental quality is a prime concern to sustain the development of Egypt. Solid wastes generated from human settlements are of the major environmental issues that concern and challenge Egypt today. SWM is a crucial public service issue affecting both environment and health. SWM in Egypt has always been and will continue to be one of the most pressing challenges facing the Egyptian authorities for the coming decades unless appropriate solutions are derived The intention of this search is to implement Quality Improvement Techniques in Environmental Engineering Field to analyze the Egyptian Waste Management problem and find applicable solutions according to the current situation givens The main focus is on municipal solid wastes excluding hazardous wastes from it SWM problem in Egypt can be summarized as the absence of a regular waste collection service waste is dumped in open spaces on access roads which are invaded by animals and waste pickers so wastes are scattered and serve as breeding grounds for disease vectors and with the leachate from decomposing garbage nearby water sources and soil which results in food contamination all this have serious environmental consequences Alexandria the second capital of Egypt is taken as practical case study of this search The field of solid waste management is as old as human beings age Since that waste is a product that is commonly developed due to human living This sector has been of such concern for all cultures all along the history because of its significant effects on both the human health and his surrounding environment The effects on health appears in terms of disease spread like cholera and plague that were really developed due to poor means of handling solid wastes at this time While the significant effects that could affect the environment appear in terms of land degradation and soil contamination But a huge gap has occurred in the development and improvement of this field between developed and developing countries along time In developing countries like Egypt the situation is deteriorated in terms of inadequate waste collection service resulting in poor waste collection coverage efficiency that led to waste garbage spread on the access roads of the cities
