The Politics Of Consumer Protection:

The Politics of Consumer Protection Mark V. Nadel, 1971 The Politics of Consumer Credit in the UK, 1938-1992

Stuart Aveyard, Paul Corthorn, Sean O'Connell, 2018-08-30 As early as the 1930s Britain had a highly innovative and profitable mortgage sector that promoted a major extension in home ownership. These controversial and risky offerings had an equivalent in numerous hire purchase agreements with which new homes were furnished. Such developments were forerunners of the easy credit regime more commonly associated with the 1980s. Taking a long term perspective on this issue indicates that Britain's departure from European models of consumer credit markets was not simply a by-product of neoliberalism's influence on the Thatcher administration and this book offers a much fuller explanation to the phenomenon. It explores debates within and between the major political parties, reveals the infighting amongst civil service departments over management of consumer demand, charts the varying degrees of influence wielded by the Bank of England and finance capital as opposed to that of consumer durable manufacturers, reviews the perspectives of consumers and their representatives and explains the role of contingency and path dependency in these historical events. The central focus of this book is on consumer credit but this subject provides a case study through which to explore numerous other important areas of British history. These include debates on the issues of post-war consensus, the impact of rising home ownership and its impact on consumer credit and personal finance markets, the management of consumer society, political responses to affluence, the development of consumer protection policy and the influence of neoliberalism. Consumer Protection in Asia Geraint Howells, Hans-W. Micklitz, Mateja Durovic, André Janssen, 2022-08-25 This book looks at the consumer protection offered in a range of Asian countries for example China, Japan and South Korea in key areas such as consumer sales law, unfair terms, product liability and unfair commercial practices. However, it is interesting to note that consumer protection is on the rise everywhere and to compare how this differs depending upon the legal cultures. It is also fascinating to reflect on the influence of models for law reform such as the EU laws. ASEAN has also affected the development of consumer policy for its member states. The book takes the form of national reports which explain the development of the law and also shed light on how the law works in practice. The book also contains thematic reports which look at each area of the law from a comparative perspective. Commentators from around the globe reflect on their impression of Asian consumer law based on their own differing legal systems and benchmarks. A must-read for anyone with an interest in consumer law in Asia and beyond, this book will form the basis of further research and discussion internationally. The ^AOxford Handbook of Political Consumerism Magnus Boström, Michele Micheletti, Peter Oosterveer, 2019-01-25 This volume offers the first comprehensive theoretical and comparative overview of the ways in which the market becomes a political arena. It maps the four major forms of political consumerism: boycotting, buycotting, spending to show support, lifestyle politics and discursive actions such as culture jamming. Chapters by leading scholars examine political consumerism in different locations and industry sectors and in consideration of environmental and human rights problems political events and the ethics of production and manufacturing practices

Neopluralism Andrew S. McFarland, 2004 Many of the basic issues of political science have been addressed by pluralist theory which focuses on the competing interests of a democratic polity their organization and their influence on policy Andrew McFarland shows that this approach still provides a promising foundation for understanding the American political process
