History of the Development of the Doctrine of the Person of Christ Isaak August

Dorner,1890      The Person of Christ H. Mackintosh,2019-10-02 This work was originally published in 1912 by the author H R Mackintosh This book is as he says an attempt to consider what is perhaps the most urgent religious question of our time Who was Jesus Christ and what can be definitely ascertained as to the purpose of His life No subject could be more arresting indeed for earnest observers of society none could be more vividly engrossing at the present hour The world can hardly contain the books which are being written about Jesus Thousands of teachers teach about Jesus every day Hundreds of preachers proclaim His Gospel If a modern theme could be named that theme is Jesus Christ The subject matter of this inquiry may be divided into three parts First we shall endeavor to ascertain the most important facts known to be true regarding Jesus as He lived in Palestine Next we shall inquire as to the place and function filled by Him in Christian experience Finally there remains the question so vast and overwhelming of His relation to Almighty God No problems more sublime could visit the human mind yet none are so intensely practical For none could spring more directly out of our personal attitude to the Gospel We all of us know much regarding Jesus and what we know is our best possession for no man who has once absorbed a ray of Christ s light can ever again become as though he had not heard His name At the same time we may not as yet have vocalized our impressions we may have delayed so far to gather what we believe in one supreme measured and coherent conviction for which we can make a stand and which will satisfy the just demands of intellectual consistency It is to such an inquiry and to such an at least partial formulation of conclusions that we are invited in the present study At the very outset however it is necessary to repeat a familiar caution or rather perhaps to realize freshly the glory of a great promise Our insight into the fact of Jesus will depend essentially on our spiritual attitude and temper This is one chief matter indeed which is covered by the word of Jesus If any man willeth to do His will he shall know of the teaching whether it be of God St John 7 17 Instinctively we recognize that the significance of Christ is not equally clear to everyone is not in fact at all times equally clear to ourselves Nor ought we to suppose that our appreciation of Him is at all singular in this respect The principle holds everywhere Obedience is always the organ of spiritual knowledge Is it not a familiar fact that our assurance of immortality wavers and flickers in secret concord with our habits Does not our sense of God wax and wane with our loyalty to duty and our practice of secret prayer So is it with the apprehension of Jesus Christ we may make it feebly dim or grandly and inspiringly and self evidently clear by the attitude we take to His claim upon our lives It is right that this should be emphasized at the beginning For it is useless to ignore the truth that the man who has no wish to be good will tell you if he is candid that for him Jesus Christ has no value or attractiveness of any kind Christ means something great something overwhelming something divine and all sufficient only for the man who is dissatisfied with himself who has aimed at righteousness and now to his shame and grief stands self convicted of failure You cannot see the beauty or the sense of the glowing cathedral window from without to behold the splendor and the miracle you must stoop and enter and in like manner Christ remains unintelligible and valueless to all save those who under the constraint of righteousness have dared to pass with Him into the sanctuary of conscience To know for certain who Christ is we must first have gathered ourselves up in a genuine moral effort and been brave enough to look straight and clear at the facts of our own character and of the moral universe     The Lord Jesus Christ (We Believe) Brandon D. Crowe, 2023-10-18 2023 Credo Magazine Book Awards Finalist

Systematic Theology and Dogmatics Christ our Redeemer Jesus is the divine Son of God who has taken on human nature in the incarnation And as prophet priest and king he leads his people in a new exodus In The Lord Jesus Christ Brandon D Crowe reflects on Christ s person and work Crowe traces christological concerns throughout the Old and New Testaments and church history and then presents systematic and practical implications Through a combination of biblical historical and theological study Crowe provides a fresh and robust statement of who Christ is and what he has done Written from a confessionally Reformed perspective in dialogue with the great creeds of the church The Lord Jesus Christ provides a thorough and trustworthy guide to understanding Jesus and his salvific work     The Person of Jesus Christ Hugh Ross Mackintosh, 1912
