The Poetry Of Postmodernity Anglo American Encodings:

The Poetry of Postmodernity Dennis Brown, 1994-01-01 The argument put forward in The Poetry of Modernity Anglo American Encodings is that certain recent Anglo American poets incisively articulated the postmodern situation well before or irrespective of the theorisation of Postmodernism It illuminates how building on literary Modernism like minded poets pioneered awareness of pressing global realities such as the rise of the new media increasing internationalism growing awareness of environmental limitations or the return of a spiritual repressed in ways which anticipated and remain to challenge the emphases of the post modern debate Reappraising specific poetic zones from the late work of W H Auden through Allen Ginsberg Sylvia Plath John Berryman Ted Hughes Geoffrey Hill and John Ashbery to the later work of R S Thomas it highlights the prophetic role of poetry in a complex contemporary world and confirms the achievements of certain recent poets as a precedent for future verse production

The Poetry of Postmodernity D. Brown, 1994-10-17 The Poetry of Postmodernity reappraises key Anglo American poets of the last fifty years in the light of debates about the postmodern situation It offers fresh critical insights into how their literary contribution gives cogent expression to both the socio cultural possibilities and the global problems of our recent past our apparent present and our probable future The poets considered are late Auden Ginsberg Plath Berryman Hughes Hill Ashbery and late R S Thomas

Poetry and the Sense of Panic, 2021-09-20 For all the disciplined artifice of Elizabeth Bishop and John Ashbery the essays in this collection show that panic plays a crucial role in their work giving substance to Bishop's claim that an element of mortal panic and fear underlines all art Panic emerges as a condition of creative anxiety and the self imposed demands of originality in response to the poetic traditions Bishop and Ashbery inherited These concerns are explored in essays addressed to Bishop and Ashbery's engagement with European Surrealism as an alternative to the dominant poetics of Modernism and its aftermath in the middle years of the twentieth century Other essays debate the philosophical religious and political orientation of their work in relation to Romantic orthodoxies and Postmodern ironies in terms of cultural history ideology and poetic practice This collection provides original commentaries on the work of two poets widely regarded as amongst the most significant American poets of the second half of the twentieth century with essays by notable scholars from the United States and Britain known for their special interests in modern poetry including Joanne Feit Diehl Mark Ford Edward Larissy Peter Nicholls Peter Robinson Thomas Travisano Cheryl Walker and Geoff Ward

An Introduction to Twentieth-Century Poetry in English R.P. Draper, 1999-04-19 This critical survey of modern poetry from Thomas Hardy to Seamus Heaney considers both the self consciously revolutionary innovations of Modernism and more traditional developments taking fully into account the extent to which English can no longer be equated solely with England Scots Welsh and Irish poetry and poetry from Commonwealth countries such as Australia New Zealand and the Caribbean are recognised as equally important aspects of the diversity that characterises modern poetry in English and in particular the contributions of North American poets such as Ezra Pound William Carlos Williams Wallace Stevens and Robert Lowell receive the major emphasis that their achievement and extensive influence warrants and attention is given to important new perspectives in the work of women poets such as Adrienne Rich Sylvia Plath and Elizabeth Bishop

Twentieth-Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition Daniella Jancsó, 2019-02-19 Twentieth Century Metapoetry and the Lyric Tradition reveals the unique value of metapoems for exploring twentieth century poetry By placing these texts into a hitherto barely investigated literary historical perspective it demonstrates that modern metapoetry is steeped in the lyric tradition to a much greater extent than previously acknowledged Since these literary continuities that cut across epochal boundaries can be traced across all major poetic movements they challenge established accounts of the history of twentieth century poetry that postulate a radical break with the immediate past Moreover the finding that metapoems perpetuate traditional forms and topoi distinguishes metapoetry historically and systematically from metafiction and metadrama After highlighting the most important differences as regards to the function of metareference in poetry on the one side and in fiction and drama on the other the book concludes with a discussion of how to account for these generic differences theoretically With its extraordinarily subtle and perceptive Ronald Bush St John's College Oxford interpretive readings of over one hundred metapoems by canonical anglophone authors it offers the first representative selection of twentieth century poems about poetry in English

A Companion to Twentieth-Century Poetry Neil Roberts, 2008-04-15 In the twentieth century more people spoke English and more people wrote poetry than in the whole of previous history and this Companion strives to make sense of this crowded poetical era The original contributions by leading international scholars and practising poets were written as the contributors adjusted to the idea that the possibilities of twentieth century poetry were exhausted and finite However the volume also looks forward to the poetry and readings that the new century will bring The Companion embraces the extraordinary development of poetry over the century in twenty English speaking countries a century which began with a bipolar transatlantic connection in modernism and ended with the decentred heterogeneity of post colonialism Representation of the canonical and the marginal is therefore balanced including the full integration of women poets and feminist approaches and the in depth treatment of post colonial poets from various national traditions Discussion of context intertextualities and formal approaches illustrates the increasing self consciousness and self reflexivity of the period whilst a Readings section offers new readings of key selected texts The volume as a whole offers critical and contextual coverage of the full range of English language poetry in the last century
