The Polish Community Of Worcester:

Polish Community of Worcester Barbara Proko, John Kraska, Janice Baniukiewicz Stickles, 2003-10 Near the beginning of the twentieth century thousands of Polish immigrants embarked upon the American Dream in Worcester as the city's lowest paid mill workers. Slowly they carved out their own Polonia with Millbury Street as the center. By the 1920s Worcester's Polish community had built a parish with the largest parochial school in the county, established several civic associations and become an influential group in the city's economy and ethnic composition. The Polish Community of Worcester celebrates the resilient and patriotic spirit of Worcester's Polonia from 1870 through 1970 with rare photographs from private collections and family albums.

Eight Hours for What We Will Roy Rosenzweig, 1983 Focusing on the city of Worcester, Massachusetts, the author takes the reader to the saloons, the amusement parks and the movie houses where American industrial workers spent their leisure hours to explore the nature of working class culture and class relations during this era.

Worcester County's Polish Community Barbara Proko, Janice Baniukiewicz Stickles, 2007-09 Polish settlement in Worcester County had humble beginnings: a small group of German Poles in the 1870s. Over the next decades thousands of Russian and Austrian Poles, fleeing economic and political hardship, pinned their hopes for a better life on jobs in the burgeoning industries of central Massachusetts. Practicing their religion in their native tongue was vital to these devout Catholics. New England's first Polish parish was founded in Webster, with others following in Worcester, Gardner, West Warren, Clinton, Southbridge and Dudley. Polish clubs served as central gathering places in Gilbertville, Uxbridge and South Grafton. Worcester County's Polish Americans share an intricate web of relationships: family, religious, business, social, cultural, educational, political and athletic, that celebrates their heritage and sustains them today as one of the region's largest ethnic groups.
