Randolph-Macon Woman's College, 1950 Register of graduates 1896 1931 1931 32 p 131 342      Catalog Sears, Roebuck and Company, 1911      Preserving Dance Across Time and Space Lynn Brooks, Joellen Meglin, 2016-05-06 Dance is the art least susceptible to preservation since its embodied kinaesthetic nature has proven difficult to capture in notation and even in still or moving images However frameworks have been established and guidance made available for keeping dances performances and choreographers legacies alive so that the dancers of today and tomorrow can experience and learn from the dances and dancers of the past In this volume a range of voices address the issue of dance preservation through memory artistic choice interpretation imagery and notation as well as looking at relevant archives legal structures documentation and artefacts The intertwining of dance preservation and creativity is a core theme discussed throughout this text pointing to the essential continuity of dance history and dance innovation The demands of preservation stretch across time geographies institutions and interpersonal connections and this book focuses on the fascinating web that supports the fragile yet urgent effort to sustain our dancing heritage The articles in this book were originally published in the journal Dance Chronicle Studies in Dance and the Related Arts      Acquisitions and Collection Development in the Humanities Linda S Katz, Sally J Kenney, Helen Kinsella, 2013-10-31 Acquisitions and Collection Development in the Humanities is a one of a kind guide on the procedures approaches and principles needed to make sound decisions in acquiring materials in various areas of the humanities It gives you an inside look at managerial concerns in documentary delivery changing budgetary needs and fluctuations in journal prices and helps you address many of the important questions in acquisitions and collection development within both traditional and technological environments As contributing author Dennis Dillon puts it the ultimate goal of humanities librarians is not to acquire information bytes and bits but to promote integrity integrity of texts integrity of selection the integrity of the collection and the integrity of the library and its ultimate purpose This objective underlies this multifaceted and comprehensive collection of articles as the authors address many interesting issues developments and challenges in the field including selecting candidates for digitization and producing e texts collecting in areas that don t have immediate utility or that may be unpopular what librarians need to know about the humanities as a discipline in order to effectively meet the informational and technological needs of their constituencies online discussion groups as useful sources of webliographic information cooperative collection building the importance of maintaining a high degree of local ownership for materials the principles criteria and tools needed to develop a Native American studies collection document driven and use driven approaches to collecting acquiring and preserving records that chronicle the role played by African Americans in the United States development Acquisitions and Collection Development in the Humanities can help professional librarians graduate school faculty and students in information and library science acquire the knowledge and skills necessary for building a broadly based and academically responsive collection It will certainly help you keep up with changes in the information environment and show you how the tools you ve developed for selecting traditional library materials will be useful as you grapple with electronic texts spider search mechanisms on the Web becoming a webliographer and budget shortfalls

Dictionary Catalog of the Dance Collection New York Public Library. Dance Collection,1974      The Glen collection of Scottish dance music ,1895      The Evolution of Aesthetic and Expressive Dance in Boston Jody Marie Weber,2009 The Evolution of Aesthetic and Expressive Dance in Boston provides a regional history of the physical education pioneers who established the groundwork for women to participate in movement and expression Their schools and their writing offer insights into the powerful cultural changes that were reconfiguring women s perceptions of their bodies in motion The book examines the history from the first successful school of ballroom dance run by Lorenzo Papanti to the establishment of the Braggiotti School by Berthe and Francesca Braggiotti two wealthy Bostonian socialites who used their power and money to support dance in Boston The Delsartean ideas about beauty and the expressive capacity of the body freed upper class women to explore movement beyond social dance and to enjoy movement as artistic self expression Their interest and pleasure in early parlor forms engaged them as sponsors and advocates of expressive dance Although revolutionaries such as Isadora Duncan and Ruth St Denis also garnered support from Boston and New York s social sets in Boston the relationship of the city s elite and its native dancers was both intimate and ongoing The Braggiotti sisters did not use this support to embark on international tours instead they founded a school that educated the children of their sponsors and offered performances for their own community Although later artists Miriam Winslow and Hans Weiner did tour nationally and internationally the intimate relationships they maintained with the upper echelon of Boston society required that they remain sensitive to the needs of their students and their community Through the study of these schools the reader is offered a unique perspective on the evolution of expressive dance as it unfolded in Boston and its environs The Evolution of Aesthetic and Expressive Dance in Boston is an important book for those interested in dance history women s studies and regional histories      Subject Catalog Library of Congress,      Godey's Lady's Book ,1897      The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1877      A General Catalogue of Books Offered to the Public at the Affixed Prices by Bernard Quaritch ... ,1883      Catalogue of Prints and Drawings in the British Museum British Museum.
