A number of his works in painting, sculpture and architecture rank among the most famous in existence. His output in every field during his long life was prodigious when the sheer volume of correspondence, sketches and reminiscences that survive is also taken into account he is the best documented artist of the 16th century. In his lifetime he was also often called Il Divino the divine one. One of the qualities most admired by his contemporaries was his terribilità a sense of awe inspiring grandeur and it was the attempts of subsequent artists to imitate Michelangelo's impassioned and highly personal style that resulted in Mannerism the next major movement in Western art after the High Renaissance.
