Strain Of Violence:

Strain of Violence Richard Maxwell Brown, 1975-01-02 These essays written by leading historian of violence and Presidential Commission consultant Richard Maxwell Brown consider the challenges posed to American society by the criminal turbulent and depressed elements of American life and the violent response of the established order Covering violent incidents from colonial American to the present Brown presents illuminating discussions of violence and the American Revolution black white conflict from slave revolts to the black ghetto riots of the 1960s the vigilante tradition and two of America s most violent regions Central Texas whic

Violence Margaret A. Zahn, Henry H. Brownstein, Shelly L. Jackson, 2014-09-25 Brings together theoretical and empirical papers prepared by noted researchers and theoreticians The first part includes chapters by criminological theorists who apply their theory of crime particularly to violence The second part contains chapters by researchers who look at the substantive area of their expertise through the lens of theories of violence Each chapter is original and was written specifically for this book

The Oxford Handbook of Juvenile Crime and Juvenile Justice Barry C. Feld, Donna M. Bishop, 2012-01-12 State of the art critical reviews of recent scholarship on the causes of juvenile delinquency juvenile justice system responses and public policies to prevent and reduce youth crime are brought together in a single volume authored by leading scholars and researchers in neuropsychology developmental and social psychology sociology history criminology criminal justice and law

Criminal Belief Systems Glenn D. Walters, 2002-09-30 Walters integrates information from traditional criminological models and findings from developmental psychology to form a system of five belief systems self view world view past view present view and future view designed to explain crime initiation and maintenance While reviewing belief systems that support crime Walters also offers a model of change through which belief systems incongruent with crime can be constructed He begins with a review of six traditional criminological models each of which is considered to possess sufficient breadth and substance to advance our understanding of crime Information gathered from these major theoretical systems is integrated with research from developmental psychology to create a system of crime congruent belief systems The belief systems along with recent research on attributions outcome expectancies efficacy expectancies values goals and thinking styles are then used to construct a general theory of crime and explain four specific categories of crime violent crime sexual assault white collar crime and drug trafficking Walters concludes with a model of assisted change whereby belief systems incongruent with crime are initiated and maintained with the intent of helping people abandon crime congruent lifestyles This change model revolves around four core elements responsibility confidence meaning community each of which is emphasized in a clinician s interactions with clients seeking to abandon crime congruent lifestyles As Walters maintains belief systems are instrumental in both the development and cessation of crime congruent lifestyles Of particular interest to scholars students researchers and practitioners involved with criminology criminal justice and clinical and correctional psychology
