The Nigerian Military Robin Luckham, 1971-09-30 An account of the Nigerian military coups of 1966 in which the author discusses both the events themselves and their sociological background City Life in Africa Katja Werthmann, 2022-07-27 This book introduces readers to the anthropology of urban life in Africa showing what ethnography can teach us about African city dwellers own notions practices and reflections Social anthropologists have studied city life in Africa since the early 20th century Their works have addressed a number of questions that are relevant until today What happens to rural people who move to the city What kinds of livelihoods do they pursue How does city life affect moralities and practices connected with gender roles marriage parenthood and intergenerational relations In which social situations are ethnic and other collective identifications relevant How do people make a home in the city What forms of authority and leadership become relevant in urban governance How do people talk about city life This book asks what anthropologists have come to learn about Africans views on city life It provides a critical acclaim of ethnographies in English French and German and elucidates anthropology s contribution to understanding city life in Africa It highlights the significance of female African and Diaspora scholars for an emerging urban anthropology of Africa The chapters are organized according to everyday activities of city dwellers moving connecting governing working dwelling and wayfinding The book will be an essential read for students and researchers of social anthropology African and urban studies but also for professionals in research and development organizations thinktanks and other institutions concerned with urban Africa The African City Anthony O'Connor, 2013-01-11 This book explores various characteristics of tropical African cities with special reference to change in the post independence period It stresses the diversity of urban forms and urban experience to be found within the region distinguishing the more general features from those peculiar to individual cities Much has been written about urban Africa but nearly all relates to particular cities this book provides a context for such studies This review provides an essential foundation both for theoretical clarification of the processes of urbanization and for practical planning decisions The topics covered range from rural urban migration and national urban systems to the urban economy housing and the spatial structure of cities The sharp contrasts between indigenous and colonial urban traditions are emphasized but so also is the evidence for convergence today as indigenization takes place in the colonial cities while Westernization proceeds in those of indigenous origin This book was first published in 1983 From Cultural Justice to Inter-Ethnic Mediation Basil Ugorji, 2012-03 Inspired by ethno religious conflicts which occur in a frequent incessant and violent manner in the contemporary Nigerian society Basil Ugorji examines the very real struggle for cultural justice that often leads to tribal violence and clashes ethnic and religious wars and genocides The author thoroughly investigates the relevance of certain measures judicial and coercive used to manage ethno religious conflicts in Africa Based on the historical and political contexts pre colonialism colonialism post independence the author explores the premise that a shift is required in the research of peaceful resolution first from retributive justice to restorative justice and second from coercive methods of reconciliation to ethno religious mediation with a focus on the ethnic tribal and religious groups involved in conflicts the origins causes consequences and actors involved and the forms and places of occurrence of ethno religious conflicts With scholarship and compassion the author sees the people within the conflict and exposes their humanity Beyond the posturing and politics he returns sanity to the discussion by revealing the often counterintuitive behavior of social systems under stress More than just empirical observation From Cultural Justice to Inter Ethnic Mediation A Reflection on the Possibility of Ethno Religious Mediation in Africa provides welcome insights into convoluted dynamics and offers practical strategies through peace education There is something here for everybody seeking a way forward out of chaos in Africa from grassroots advocates to senior policymakers

African Development and Global Engagements Adebusi Isaac Adeniran, 2023-05-07 The book takes a cursory look at the drivers and the directions of Africa's developmental drive as a largely developing continent within the frameworks of the ever dynamic global space putting into perspective inherent challenges and opportunities of the 21st Century and thereafter Being the continent with most youthful population Africa appears to still lack in requisite innovative interventions to transmute such demographic dividend into economic opportunities for the benefits of the larger population Instead there has been increasing trend in South North migrations among both skilled and unskilled Africans across all age groups Besides impacts of climate change on the continent have also implied unstructured migratory trend within and beyond the bounds of the continent Africa has continued to play a feeble role in various United Nations UN enabled Conference of Parties COP negotiations such as the COP 26 in Glasgow Scotland 2021 The management of recent Covid 19 epidemic across the world has presented a clear pointer to Africa that except development is internally driven no one is ready to exogenously drive sustainable good life for others Ostensible vaccine nationalism that has dotted the production and availability of various Covid 19 vaccine brands which has ultimately left Africa as the begging continent one more time calls for in depth interrogation in contextualizing what the place of Africa has been is and to be within the global interactive mode
