Strategic Consequences of Nuclear Proliferation in South Asia Neil Joeck,2025-04-01 Strategic Consequences of Nuclear Proliferation in South Asia 1986 examines the consequences for particular states should India and Pakistan decide to deploy nuclear weapons It looks in detail at the positions of both India and Pakistan and the responses of the United States the Soviet Union and China and their respective strategic positions This book includes contributions on the larger question of how nuclear pariah states pose a separate problem of nuclear proliferation as well as on the broader challenges to the nuclear non proliferation regime

Special Issue on Strategic Consequences of Nuclear Proliferation in South Asia Neil Joeck,1985 Nuclear Proliferation In South Asia Stephen P Cohen,1991-02-14 This study is based on two policy related premises the pessimistic one is that both Pakistan and India have developed nuclear weapons covertly yet hold back from deployment because each sees political advantages in a policy of nuclear ambiguity The optimistic premise is that arms control and verification could take root in both countries to limit the instability of their national rivalry and nuclear potentials The first premise shapes Cohen s regionalist policy views The second premise is the key to several chapters by others The volume includes two political position papers from opposed national perspectives by Akhtar Ali from Pakistan and Brahma Chellaney from India The latter explains India s traditional reticence toward region specific arms control schemes Akhtar Ali presents insights both into the real obstacles and the openings that could move them aside ISBN 0 8133 8159 2 pbk 47 00

Strategic Dynamics and Nuclear Weapons Proliferation in South Asia Bhumitra Chakma,2004 This book analyses India and Pakistan s decision to go nuclear against the odds of Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty based nuclear order It reflects upon the key factors that contributed to and the process that prompted India and Pakistan s nuclear programmes to take a military orientation which eventually culminated in the May 1998 nuclear tests It also explains the motivation which underscored both India and Pakistan s determination to advance nuclear postures in 1998 that appeared to be inconsistent with the post Cold War global strategic environment Further this book explains why international and regional nuclear non proliferation regimes were ineffective in preventing India and Pakistan from going nuclear

The Politics of Regionalism in South Asia B. Mohanan,1992 This Study Is A Modest Attempt To Apply The Integration Theory To The Analysis Of Trends And Shifts In Inter Dependence Intra And Extra Regional In South Asia Distinction Between The Integration Models That Emerged In Western Europe And The South Asian Integration Is Discernible The External Relations Of The Saarc Members Are Having Positive And Negative Impacts On The Integrative Process In This Region Thus Bilateral Relations And External Ties Are The Major Considerations In This Study This Study Brings Home The Fact That The Supranational Handling Of Political And Economic Issues Are Not Possible In A Developing Region Where Sovereignty Is Jealously Guarded The Third World Integration Model As Proposed By Lynn Mytelka Is Found Useful In The South Asian Context Mytelka S Type Ill Model Considers The Conditions Of Dependence But In South Asia It Is Very Difficult To Attain Type Iii Integration Scheme Since

Primacy Of The Political Is Underscored In A Third World Integration Scheme Relatively High Degree Of Political Integration At The Outset Is A Logical First Step This High Level Political Integration Has Got Two Aspects Viz I Bilateral And II External Projection Of Common Regional Front In Dealing With External Powers Will Have A Spill Over Effect On Bilateral Relations Without Improving Bilateral Relations Vital Economic Areas Cannot Be Brought Under The Regional Scheme It Is Found That India Has Got A Special Role In Regional Co-operation In South Asia Since The Whole Region Is Indo-Centric And India Dominated Good Neighbourly Relations Incorporating The Ideals And Aspirations Of The Smaller South Asian Countries Would Ultimately Result In Widening The Scope Of SAARC Regionalism At The Present Stage Deepening Rather Than Widening Should Be Given Priority The Attempt Should Be To Diminish The Dimensions Of Conflict Rather Than The Outright Elimination Of It SAARC Is A Compound Of Interests Settling Of Bilateral Disputes Is Not Mathematically Achievable
