Televisions Teletext:

Interactive Television Production Mark Gawlinski, 2013-01-25 Interactive Television Production is essential reading for all broadcasting and new media professionals whether in production marketing technology business or management. It will also be of interest to media students and anyone looking to get an insight into the future of television production. It provides a practical step by step guide to the processes and issues involved in taking an interactive television idea through to being an operational service based on the knowledge and experience of leading interactive television producers. This book can be used as a quick and easy reference guide with each chapter containing a Chapter in 30 seconds summary for easy reference or read from cover to cover. Using accessible language the author provides detailed descriptions of iTV software technologies OpenTV MHEG 5 TV Navigator delivery technologies cable satellite and terrestrial and production tools. There are also entire chapters devoted to key issues like the commercial side of iTV and the latest work on usability and design. The accompanying web site www.InteractiveTelevisionProduction.com contains useful links designed to help with common iTV questions and issues. There are also entertaining quizzes for each chapter that let you test your knowledge of the concepts introduced in the book. Modern Television Practice Principles, Technology and Servicing 2/Ed , Dictionary of Video

Its chapters discuss language in television and the new media the language of advertising or special cases such as translation platforms or subtitling. Separate chapters are dedicated to minority languages and smaller varieties such as Galician and Picard and to methodological approaches such as linguistic discourse analysis and writing process research.

Videotex and Teletext Michael B. Binder, 1985 Media Perceptions of Religious Changes in Australia Enqi Weng, 2019-12-05 This volume explores the contradiction between the news coverage given to issues of religion particularly since 2001 in relation to issues such as terrorism politics security and gender and the fact of its apparent decline according to Census data. Based on media research in Australia and offering comparisons with the UK the author demonstrates that media discussions overlook the diversity that exists within religions particularly the country's main religion Christianity and presents religion according to specific interpretations shaped by race class and gender which in turn result in very limited understandings of religion itself. Drawing on understandings of the sacred as a non negotiable value present in religious and secular form Media Perceptions of Religious Changes in Australia calls for a broader sociological perspective on religion and will appeal to scholars of sociology and media studies with interests in religion and public life. Television/radio Age
