The Modern Uzbeks Edward A. Allworth, 2013-09-01 In this study of the modern Uzbeks Professor Edward A Allworth provides a comprehensive and authoritative survey of an important group of Muslim people who live within the boundaries of the Soviet Union After the Russians and the Ukrainians the Uzbeks are the largest ethnic group in the Soviet Union and the strongest of a number of Muslim communities that populate the vast region of Central Asia Russian Culture in Uzbekistan David MacFadyen, 2006-09-27 Recent political changes in Central Asia where the United States is replacing Russia as the dominant power are having a profound effect on Russian speakers in the region These people formerly perceived as progressive and engaging with Europe are now confronted by the erasure of their literary musical cinematic and journalistic culture as local ethnic and American cultures become much stronger This book examines the predicament of Russian culture in Central Asia looking at literature language cinema music and religion It argues that the Soviet past was much more complex than the simplified polarised rhetoric of the Cold War period and also that the present situation in which politicians from the former Soviet regime often continue in power is equally complex Contemporary World Fiction Juris Dilevko, Keren Dali, Glenda Garbutt, 2011-03-17 This much needed guide to translated literature offers readers the opportunity to hear from learn about and perhaps better understand our shrinking world from the perspective of insiders from many cultures and traditions In a globalized world knowledge about non North American societies and cultures is a must Contemporary World Fiction A Guide to Literature in Translation provides an overview of the tremendous range and scope of translated world fiction available in English In so doing it will help readers get a sense of the vast world beyond North America that is conveyed by fiction titles from dozens of countries and language traditions Within the guide approximately 1 000 contemporary non English language fiction titles are fully annotated and thousands of others are listed Organization is primarily by language as language often reflects cultural cohesion better than national borders or geographies but also by country and culture In addition to contemporary titles each chapter features a brief overview of earlier translated fiction from the group The guide also provides in depth bibliographic essays for each chapter that will enable librarians and library users to further explore the literature of numerous languages and cultural traditions

Tajikistan in the New Central Asia Lena Jonson, 2006-08-25 Central Asia has become the battleground for the major struggles of the 21st century radical Islam versus secularism authoritarianism versus identity politics Eastern versus Western control of resources and the American War on Terror Nowhere are these conflicts more starkly illustrated than in the case of Tajikistan Embedded in the oil rich Central Asian region and bordering war torn Afghanistan Tajikistan occupies a geo strategically pivotal position It is also a major transit hub for the smuggling of opium which eventually ends up in the hands of heroin dealers in Western cities In this timely book Lena Jonson examines Tajikistan's search for a foreign policy in the post 9 11 environment She shows the internal contradictions of a country in every sense at the crossroads reconciling its bloody past with an uncertain future She assesses the impact of regional developments on the reform movement in Tajikistan and in turn examines how changes in Tajik society which is the only Central Asian country to have a legal Islamist party might affect the region The destiny of Tajikistan is intimately connected with that of Central Asia and this thorough and penetrating book is essential reading for anyone seeking to make sense of this complex and important region The Modern

Melvin, 2004-08-02 In this volume the historical origins of Uzbekistan are explored and the range of political economic and social challenges faced by the country since independence is charted Uzbekistan's Foreign Policy Bernardo Fazendeiro, 2017-08-25 Uzbekistan's foreign policy from 1991 to 2016 starting from independence right up to the death of its first president Islam Karimov is one of the more distinctive approaches to international politics since the end of the Cold War This distinctiveness rests on the republic's gradual struggle for self reliance upon becoming independent Authorities in Uzbekistan especially its President were sceptics of the norms that came to prevail across regional and broader international politics This book addresses the making of Uzbekistan's general foreign policy and its corresponding effects outside Central Asia particularly at the highest level among state officials heads of state and ministers It shows how a particular set of promises slogans and attitudes became the pillars upon which Uzbekistan's international role was shaped a role which then affected Tashkent's twenty five year relations with Russia the United States Germany and Turkey The book argues that the Government of Uzbekistan sought to be recognised as a self reliant power after independence but that the international norms of the post Cold War order coupled with the conflicting aims of the partners with whom it interacted hindered acknowledgement and contributed to a twenty year struggle for recognition Providing a thorough assessment of President Karimov's legacy in the foreign policy domain this book contributes to the developing field of role theory and recognition in International Relations It will also be of interest to academics in the fields of Central Asian and Eurasian politics and international relations Bibliographic Guide to Anthropology and Archaeology ,1991 The Silk Road Soren Arutyunyan,1994 Foreign Policy ,1991 Identity in Central Asia John Samuel Schoeberlein-Engel,1994 Small Press Record of Books in Print Len Fulton,1993 Bones in the Sand Justin Ben-Adam Rudelson,2003 The Access Guide to Ethnic Conflicts in Europe and the Former Soviet Union Bruce Seymore,1994 The Creation of Soviet Turkmenistan, 1924-1938 Adrienne Lynn Edgar,1999
