National Archives and Records Service,1951 Men of Capital Sherene Seikaly,2015-11-18 An eye opening book on the history of an elite Palestinian Arab group an important contribution and a highly recommended read Middle East Journal Men of Capital examines British ruled Palestine in the 1930s and 1940s through a focus on economy In a departure from the expected histories of Palestine this book illuminates dynamic class constructions that aimed to shape a pan Arab utopia in terms of free trade profit accumulation and private property And in so doing it positions Palestine and Palestinians in the larger world of Arab thought and social life moving attention away from the limiting debates of Zionist Palestinian conflict Reading Palestinian business periodicals records and correspondence Sherene Seikaly reveals how capital accumulation was central to the conception of the ideal social man Here we meet a diverse set of characters the man of capital the frugal wife the law abiding Bedouin the unemployed youth and the abundant farmer in new spaces like the black market cafes and cinemas and the idyllic Arab home Seikaly also traces how British colonial institutions and policies regulated wartime austerity regimes mapping the shortages of basic goods such as the vegetable crisis of 1940 to the broader material disparities among Palestinians and European Jews Ultimately she shows that the economic is as central to social management as the political and that an exclusive focus on national claims and conflicts hides the more complex changes of social life in Palestine War, Institutions, and Social Change in the Middle East Steven Heydemann,2000-12 A fresh look at the effects of war on state and society in the Middle East challenging traditional assumptions based on European experience The authors argue that war has destabilized Middle Eastern states and eroded national cohesion Merchant Shipping and the Demands of War Catherine Betty Abigail Behrens,1955 Tells what was required of the British ships in various phases of the war how they met them and the costs involved Trade and Investment in the Middle East Rodney Wilson,1977-06-17 Financial Policy, 1939-45 Richard Sidney Sayers,1956

A Small Room in Clarges Street Rosie Llewellyn-Jones,2014-05-01 During the darkest days of the Second World War a select group of people gathered together in Mayfair to listen to a series of secret lectures organised by the Royal Central Asian Society now the Royal Society for Asian Affairs Lecturers and their hand picked audience examined fast moving events in the Middle East Persia and Russia with the intention to propose strategies for Britain s post war international role The lecturers were chosen for their inside knowledge of these countries a British General who had visited Russia s front line held against the German invasion an RAF officer who was in Iraq during the pro German coup by Rashid Ali and the subsequent defence of the Habbaniya air base a Persian speaking British diplomat stationed in Teheran a Mancunian of Lebanese descent who spoke frankly about Arab hopes and fears a Home Officer advisor sent to Moscow to inspect its fire watching arrangements and a Polish countess forcibly transported to a collective farm in Siberia among others Secrecy surrounded these lectures many of the scripts were marked Secret or Confidential they were not published in the Society's Journal and the audience was warned not to reveal the topics discussed outside the Clarges Street premises The discussions which followed the lectures were held in the knowledge that frank views could be freely expressed and are included in this volume Although so much has changed in the international arena these seventy year old lectures only recently rediscovered in the Society's Archives have a peculiar poignancy and relevance in understanding today's unquiet Middle East and how war time events and strategies were to shape post war policy with regard to Arab nationalism and Arab unity
