Stories From The Storyteller:

The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction Areti Dragas, 2014-08-31 Focusing on the figure of the storyteller this study breaks new ground in the approach to reading contemporary literature by identifying a growing interest in storytelling For the last thirty years contemporary fiction has been influenced by theoretical discourses textuality and writing Only since the rise of postcolonialism have academic critics been more overtly interested in stories where high theory frameworks are less applicable However as we move through various contemporary contexts engaging with postcolonial identities and hybridity to narratives of disability and evolutionary accounts of group and individual survival a common feature of all is the centrality of story which posits both the idea of survival and the passing on of traditions The Return of the Storyteller in Contemporary Fiction closely examines this preoccupation with story and storytelling through a close reading of six contemporary international novelists that are either about actual storytellers or engage with the figure of the storyteller revealing how death of the author has given birth to the storyteller

Nur, Resuloglu, Filiz, 2018-07-06 Transmedia storytelling is defined as a process where integral elements of fiction get dispersed systematically across multiple delivery channels to create a unified and coordinated entertainment experience This process and its narrative models have had an increasing influence on the academic world in addressing both theoretical and practical dimensions of transmedia storytelling The Handbook of Research on Transmedia Storytelling and Narrative Strategies is a critical scholarly resource that explores the connections between consumers of media content and information parts that come from multimedia platforms as well as the concepts of narration and narrative styles Featuring coverage on a wide range of topics such as augmented reality digital society and marketing strategies this book explores narration as a method of relating to consumers This book is ideal for advertising professionals creative directors academicians scriptwriters researchers and upper level graduate students seeking current research on narrative marketing strategies

Improving Your Storytelling Doug Lipman, 1999 The first steps in storytelling are often easy because we tell stories informally every day Once you take storytelling into the more formal contexts of performance or occupational uses however you may be faced with challenges you hadn't anticipated You need information that goes beyond the basics And you need it in a form that does not just tell you what to do but helps you make your own informed decisions This book is meant for the reader who has already begun to tell stories and is ready to learn more about the art Instead of rules to follow it gives you a series of frameworks that encourage you to think on your feet Doug Lipman has written and taught extensively on the art of storytelling With the same generosity and warmth that characterize his workshops he considers the teller's relationship to the story the teller's relationship to the audience and the transfer of imagery in a medium that is simultaneously visual auditory and kinesthetic
