It all started with a purpose to inspire and brighten people's lives through uplifting heartwarming stories. That is why I created the Stories to Remember YouTube channel although I did not anticipate it would positively impact more than 20 million people worldwide. A pen and a piece of paper were the foundation for each video on the channel. And now with this book in hand it feels like a full circle moment for me after all the stories are back on their original platform. Even though any resemblance to actual names or locations in these stories is purely coincidental this book draws inspiration from extraordinary events that occurred in some real people's lives. The main characters in these stories just like these real people know they deserve to live dignified lives and will not let any obstacle prevent them from prevailing no matter how impossible it may seem. And I genuinely hope they encourage you to follow suit. Aspiring for brighter times for all of us I worked on this book affectionately which will accomplish its purpose if it finds a place in your home to be read and reread whenever you need a boost of hope. For this reason I called them Stories to Remember. Enjoy your reading
