Reading Differently George Douglas Atkins, Michael L. Johnson, 1985 Reading-to-Write Linda Flower, Victoria Stein, John Ackerman, Margaret J. Kantz, Kathleen McCormick, Wayne C. Peck, 1990-09-20 The Social and Cognitive Studies in Writing and Literacy Series is devoted to books that bridge research theory and practice exploring social and cognitive processes in writing and expanding our knowledge of literacy as an active constructive process as students move from high school to college This descriptive study of reading to write examines a critical point in every college student's academic performance when he or she is faced with the task of reading a source integrating personal ideas and creating an individual text with a self-defined purpose Offering an unusually comprehensive view of this process the authors chart a group of freshmen as they study and write in their dormitories recording their think aloud strategies for reading writing and revising their interpretation of the task and their broader social cultural and contextual understanding of college writing Flower Stein and colleagues convincingly conclude that the legacy of schooling in general makes the transition to college difficult and more important that the assumptions students hold and the strategies they use in undertaking this task play a significant role in their academic performance Embracing a broad range of perspectives from rhetoric composition literacy research literary and cultural theory and cognitive psychology this rigorous analysis treats reading to write as both a cognitive and social process It will interest researchers and theoreticians in rhetoric and writing teachers working with students in transition from high school to college and educators involved in the links between cognition and the social process Metacognition, Strategy Use, and Instruction Harriet Salatas Waters, Wolfgang Schneider, 2009-09-01 Showcasing exemplary research programs this book explores how the latest theories and findings on cognitive development can be used to improve classroom instruction The focus is on how children acquire knowledge about the processes involved in learning such as remembering thinking and problem solving as well as strategies for mastering new information The contributors are leading experts who illustrate ways teachers can support the development of metacognition and goal directed strategy use throughout the school years and in different academic domains Teacher behaviors and instructional methods that promote these abilities are identified and innovative assessment approaches and research designs are described

Strategies for Struggling Writers James L. Collins, 1998 Featuring a wealth of real life examples the book helps readers to understand the default strategies students bring to the classroom and to work collaboratively on developing these into strategies for successful writing Strategies for College Success Diana Renn, 2005 Strategies for College Success introduces students to the language and culture of college Designed primarily for near native English speakers who are planning to attend or are just beginning their time at an American college this textbook presents skills and strategies that will help students succeed academically and adjust to the cultural aspects of college life It provides a wealth of study tips and strategies which are outlined in the front of the book to ensure academic success Strategies for College Success may be used for a general study skills class or as a supplementary text for a class with a writing focus From publisher s description Be a Better Writer,1986
