Bending the Rules of Music Theory Timothy Cutler, 2019-02-04 For students learning the principles of music theory it can often seem as though the tradition of tonal harmony is governed by immutable rules that define which chords tones and intervals can be used where Yet even within the classical canon there are innumerable examples of composers diverging from these foundational rules Drawing on examples from composers including J S Bach Mozart Beethoven Schubert Mendelssohn Chopin Brahms and more Bending the Rules of Music Theory seeks to take readers beyond the basics of music theory and help them to understand the inherent flexibility in the system of tonal music Chapters explore the use of different rule breaking elements in practice and why they work introducing students to a more nuanced understanding of music theory

Re-Reading the Beethoven Violin Sonatas Daniel Tong, 2025-04-08 New readings of the ten Beethoven sonatas for piano and violin embracing both the performer's interpretation and the analyst's rigour This book provides new readings of the ten Beethoven sonatas for piano and violin many of which have been given surprisingly little attention by scholars to date This may be because nine of the sonatas are relatively early works written between 1797 1803 with only the final sonata Op 96 1812 standing apart However within these ten works Beethoven demonstrates numerous aspects of his musical personality and compositional style The analyses in this book engage with postmodern concerns such as hermeneutics intertextuality gender humour narratology and human interest revealing characteristics within these sonatas that have been slow to come to light Here are examples of the Beethovenian narrative that do not always encapsulate heroic struggle and triumph in many of the sonatas we find a witty smiling composer at odds with the growling Beethoven iconography Works within the violin sonata cycle interrogate the hypermasculine Beethoven trope before the last sonata is explored via a host of intertextual relationships with a body of early Romantic repertoire that emerged after Beethoven's death Embracing both the performer's interpretation and the analyst's rigour or vice versa this work offers methodologies for performer's analysis whilst acknowledging that both disciplines are essential to any project that seeks to address the nature of music as it is experienced in time

A Theory of Virtual Agency for Western Art Music Robert S. Hatten, 2018-09-06 In his third volume on musical expressive meaning Robert S Hatten examines virtual agency in music from the perspectives of movement gesture embodiment topics tropes emotion narrativity and performance Distinguished from the actual agency of composers and performers whose intentional actions either create music as notated or manifest music as significant sound virtual agency is inferred from the implied actions of those sounds as they move and reveal tendencies within music stylistic contexts From our most basic attributions of sources for perceived energies in music to the highest realm of our engagement with musical subjectivity Hatten explains how virtual agents arose as distinct from actual ones how unspecified actants can take on characteristics of virtual human agents and how virtual agents assume various actorial roles Along the way Hatten demonstrates some of the musical means by which composers and performers from different historical eras have staged and projected various levels of virtual agency engaging listeners imaginatively and interactively within the expressive realms of their virtual and fictional musical worlds

Music and the Politics of Negation James R.

Currie,2012-08-23 Over the past quarter century music studies in the academy have their postmodern credentials by insisting that our scholarly engagements start and end by placing music firmly within its various historical and social contexts In Music and the Politics of Negation James R Currie sets out to disturb the validity of this now quite orthodox claim Alternating dialectically between analytic and historical investigations into the late 18th century and the present he poses a set of uncomfortable questions regarding the limits and complicities of the values that the academy keeps in circulation by means of its musical encounters His overriding thesis is that the forces that have formed us are not our fate Twelve Trios for Two Violins and Viola Joseph Haydn,1951 A Catalogue of Music and Books on Music Kenneth Mummery (Firm), Overture in B flat for 2 oboes, bassoon and strings Thomas Augustine Arne,1937 Composition de l orchestre 0 2 0 1 0 0 0 0 cordes Catalog of Sound Recordings Sibley Music Library,1977
