The Life and Twelve-Note Music of Nikos Skalkottas Eva Mantzourani,2016-03-03 Nikos Skalkottas is perhaps the last great undiscovered composer of the twentieth century In the 1920s he was a promising young violinist and composer in Berlin and a student of Schoenberg who included him among his most gifted pupils It was only after his return to Greece in 1933 that Skalkottas became an anonymous and obscure figure working in complete isolation until his death in 1949 Most of his works remained unpublished and unperformed during his lifetime and although he is largely known for his folkloristic tonal pieces Skalkottas in fact concentrated predominantly on developing an idiosyncratic dodecaphonic musical language Eva Mantzourani provides here a comprehensive study of this fascinating yet under researched composer The book lavishly illustrated with musical examples is divided into three parts Part I comprises a critical biography that by drawing extensively on his letters and other writings reappraises the image of Skalkottas with which we are often presented The main focus of the book however is on Skalkottas s twelve note compositional processes since these characterize the majority of his output and are neither well known nor fully understood Part II presents the structural and technical features of his twelve note technique particularly the different types of sets and their manipulation and his approach to musical forms Part III consists of analytical case studies of several works presented chronologically which thus provide a diachronic framework within which Skalkottas s dodecaphonic compositional development can be more effectively viewed This book underlines Nikos Skalkottas s importance as a composer with a distinctive artistic personality whose work contributed to the development of twelve note compositional practice and who deserves a more significant position within the Western art music canon than that to which he is often assigned

Lutyens, Maconchy, Williams and Twentieth-Century British Music Rhiannon Mathias,2016-05-13 Elisabeth Lutyens 1906 1983 Elizabeth Maconchy 1907 1994 and Grace Williams 1906 1977 were contemporaries at the Royal College of Music The three composers careers were launched with performances in the Macnaghten Lemare Concerts in the 1930s a time when in Britain as Williams noted a woman composer was considered very odd indeed Even so by the early 1940s all three had made remarkable advances in their work Lutyens had become the first British composer to use 12 note technique in her Chamber Concerto No 1 1939 40 Maconchy had composed four string quartets of outstanding quality and was busy rethinking the genre and Williams had won recognition as a composer with great flair for orchestral writing with her Fantasia on Welsh Nursery Tunes 1940 and Sea Sketches 1944 In the following years Lutyens Maconchy and Williams went on to compose music of striking quality and to attain prominent positions within the British music scene Their respective achievements broke through the sound ceiling challenging many of the traditional assumptions which accompanied music by female composers Rhiannon Mathias traces the development of these three important composers through analysis of selected works The book draws upon previously unexplored material as well as radio and television interviews with the composers themselves and with their contemporaries The musical analysis and contextual material lead to a re evaluation of the composers positions in the context of twentieth century British music history

The BBC and Ultra-Modern Music, 1922-1936 Jennifer Ruth Doctor, 1999 This book first published in 2000 examines the BBC s campaign to raise cultural awareness of British mass audiences in the early days of radio As a specific case it focuses on policies and plans behind transmissions of music by composers associated with Arnold Schoenberg s circle between 1922 when the BBC was founded and spring 1936 when Edward Clark a former Schoenberg pupil and central figure in BBC music resigned from the Corporation This study traces and analyses the BBC s attempts to manipulate critical and public responses to this repertory The book investigates three interrelated aspects of early BBC history Policy decisions relating to contemporary music transmissions are examined to determine why precious broadcast time was devoted to this repertory Early personnel structures are reconstructed to investigate the responsibilities attitudes and interests of those who influenced music broadcasting Finally broadcasts of Second Viennese School works are examined in detail
