Advertising in the 60s Hazel G. Warlaumont, 2001 The 1960s provides Warlaumont with the backdrop for examining the struggle of advertising during the anti establishment movement in one of America s most colorful but turbulent decades Targeted by the counterculture threatened with government regulation criticized as a waste maker by social critics weakened by internal strife between the liberal and traditional forces within the industry and faced with the consumption weary public advertising faced one of its most challenging times Yet surprisingly it made history with its unprecedented creativity and innovation during the 60s Distancing itself from the Establishment advertising as a wolf in sheep s clothing joined the cultural revolution changed the way it related to its audience and attempted to seduce consumers with humor resonance candidness and a power to the people approach Masking its ultimate goal to maintain preserve and promote the consumption ethic and business elite advertising joined an infectious wave to overturn the old and stodgy ways. Becoming a turncoat by appearing to abandon its traditional materialistic and authoritarian stance even mimicking it in some instances, advertising became a cause celebre with its colorful and humorous campaigns validating itself while under fire. Using the 60s as a backdrop, Warlaumont examines the struggle of a traditional institution during one of America's most turbulent decades. Scholars, students, and researchers involved with business communications and advertising history as well as the general public interested in the 1960s will find this study fascinating. The Ad Men and Women Edd Applegate, 1994-04-25. This reference provides extended biographical profiles of 54 men and women who have shaped advertising from the 19th century to the present. The profiles provide basic biographical information and discuss their careers and contributions in detail. Each entry concludes with a bibliography of works by and about the subject and a list of major clients and advertising campaigns. The volume closes with a selected bibliography of works for further reading. Included are copywriters, key business people from major agencies, and people who contributed to advertising theory and psychology. Street Smarts and Critical Theory Thomas McLaughlin, 1996-11-15. Like academic theorists who are trained in a tradition of philosophical and political skepticism that challenges all orthodoxies, the vernacular theorists McLaughlin identifies display a lively and healthy alertness to contradiction and propaganda. They are not passive victims of ideology but active questioners of the belief systems that have power over their lives. Their theoretical work arises from the circumstances they confront on the job in the family, in popular culture. And their questioning of established institutions, McLaughlin contends, is essential and healthy for it clarifies the purpose and strategies of institutions and justifies the existence of cultural practices. Careers for Writers & Others Who Have a Way with Words Robert W. Bly, 2003-04-16. The book explains how you can turn your way with words into cash. You will find out how writers become advertising directors, freelance writers, publicists, editors, magazine writers, proofreaders, copyeditors, newspaper reporters, screenwriters, or communication directors. You'll find information on salaries, working conditions, and opportunities for professional advancement. Written for newcomers and career changers. From back cover. Creative Careers Gary Blake, Robert W. Bly, 1985-05-06. An insider's guide to breaking in to high visibility glamour fields: finance, publishing, network television, the movies, the music industry, theater, advertising, travel, and tourism, and photography. Points out the most desirable areas within each industry, giving tips for first jobs and identifying training programs. Includes interviews with people who have made it in each of these areas. Defining the Core of the Discipline Charles F. Frazer, 1985. Encyclopedia of Public Affairs Information Sources Paul Wasserman, James Raymond Kelly, Desider L. Viktor, 1988. AB Bookman's Weekly, 1993. Infrastructure and Services David O. Whitten, 2000-06-30. Provides a consolidated history of U.S. business and a guide to a plethora of information sources indicating what is useful and what is not. The MBA's Guide to Career Planning Elwood F. Holton, 1989. Marketing Information Hiram C. Barksdale, Jac L. Goldstucker, 1995. The Cumulative Book Index, 1985.
