Banning, 2020-07-27 This second edition of the classic textbook The Archaeologist's Laboratory is a substantially revised work that offers updated information on the archaeological work that follows fieldwork such as the processing and analysis of artifacts and other evidence. An overarching theme of this edition is the quality and validity of archaeological arguments and the data we use to support them. The book introduces many of the laboratory activities that archaeologists carry out and the ways we can present research results including graphs and artifact illustrations. Part I introduces general topics concerning measurement error, data quality, research design, typology, probability and databases. It also includes data presentation, basic artifact conservation and laboratory safety. Part II offers brief surveys of the analysis of lithics and ground stone pottery, metal artifacts, bone and shell artifacts, animal and plant remains, and sediments, as well as dating by stratigraphy, seriation and chronometric methods. It concludes with a chapter on archaeological illustration and publication. A new feature of the book is the illustration of concepts through case studies from around the world and from the Palaeolithic to historical archaeology. The text is appropriate for senior undergraduate students and will also serve as a useful reference for graduate students and professional archaeologists. A Guide to the Industrial Archaeology of Europe Kenneth Hudson, 1971 Presents a country by country guide to the most interesting sites in Europe including mills, factories, mines, quarries, railways, ports, canals and museums of industry and technology. The Archaeology of Rome John Henry Parker, 1883 A Guide to the Artifacts of Colonial America Ivor Noël Hume, 2001-06-15 Back in print, this is the most accurate and useful reference for identifying Anglo-American colonial artifacts.
