W.H. Schmidt,Curtis C. McKnight,Gilbert Valverde,Richard T. Houang,David E. Wiley,1997-02-28 PREFACE The Third International Mathematics and Science Study TIMSS sponsored by the International Association for the Evaluation of Educational Achievement IEA and the governments of the participating countries is a comparative study of education in mathematics and the sciences conducted in approximately 50 educational systems on five continents The goal of TIMSS is to measure student achievement in mathematics and science in participating countries and to assess some of the curricular and classroom factors that influence student learning in these subjects The study will provide educators and policy makers with an unparalleled and multidimensional perspective on mathematics and science curricula their implementation the nature of student performance in mathematics and science and the social economic and educational context in which these occur TIMSS focuses on student learning and achievement in mathematics and science at three different age levels or populations Population 1 is defined as all students enrolled in the two adjacent grades that contain the largest proportion of 9 year old students Population 2 is defined as all students enrolled in the two adjacent grades that contain the largest proportion of 13 year old students and Population 3 is defined as all students in their final year of secondary education including students in vocational education programs In addition Population 3 has two specialist subpopulations students taking advanced courses in mathematics mathematics specialists and students taking advanced courses in physics science specialists El-Hi Textbooks in Print ,1984 The Publishers' Trade List Annual ,1887 El-Hi Textbooks & Serials in Print, 2005 ,2005

British Empiricism and Early Political Economy John A. Taylor,2005-03-30 Gregory King 1648 1712 was an engraver herald surveyor and Secretary to the Commissioners for the Public Accounts but he is best known for his 1696 estimates of the wealth and population of England Writing in 1696 but calculating for the year 1688 he put the population at approximately 5.5 million Historians have recently doubted the accuracy of these estimates In this book John A Taylor argues that King was an honest compiler of statistics and that his eccentric calculations based on the available 1696 data were motivated by the problems he faced Because he used only empiricism and shop arithmetic the 1696 estimates were probably as accurate as anyone in the 17th century could have made them Gregory King 1648 1712 was an engraver herald surveyor and Secretary to the Commissioners for the Public Accounts but he is best known for his 1696 estimates of the wealth and population of England Writing in 1696 but calculating for the year 1688 he put the population at approximately 5.5 million Historians have recently doubted the accuracy of these estimates In this book John A Taylor argues that King was an honest compiler of data whose eccentric calculations of the 1696 data available to him were motivated by the problems he faced Because he used only empiricism and shop arithmetic the 1696 estimates were probably as accurate as anyone in the 17th century could have made them This first book length study of King's work positions his successes and shortcomings as a statistician within the context of the whole ongoing failure of statisticians to construct a method of exact prediction about human society In addition to this valuable commentary Taylor also includes reprints of several scarce but very important documents by or about King including King s 1696 estimates of national population and wealth his autobiography his essay on the naval trade of England his letter on Queen Anne s Bounty and the life of King written by George Chalmers
