The Making of Eastern Europe Philip Longworth, 1992-08-18 Why has the collapse of Communism resulted in so much disappointment for the hopeful millions of Eastern Europe In this original and provocative book Philip Longworth argues that their predicament is only partly due to the imposition of the Soviet system but rather they are the heirs of misfortune which dates back centuries In exploring the origins of current problems this sweeping history ranges from the present day to the time of Constantine the Great from the Urals to the Mediterranean and the Baltic and emphasises culture and society as well as politics and economics The resulting analysis provides the crucial and until now much needed long term background to the difficulties now facing Eastern Europe This new perspective and the insight it brings will improve our understanding of this complex region and be of immense value to all who want to understand Eastern Europe s past and present The

Crampton, 2002-04-12 Covering all key Eastern European states and their history right up to the collapse of communism this second edition of Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century And After is a comprehensive political history of Eastern Europe taking in the whole of the century and the geographical area Focusing on the attempt to create and maintain a functioning democracy this new edition now examines events in Bosnia and Herzegovina includes a new consideration of the evolution of the region since the revolutions of 1989 91 surveys the development of a market economy analyzes the realignment of Eastern Europe towards the West details the emergence of organized crime discusses each state individually includes an up to date bibliography Eastern Europe in the Twentieth Century And After provides an accessible introduction to this key area which is invaluable to students of modern and political history The Making of Central and Eastern Europe Francis Dvornik, 1949 A History of Eastern Europe Robert Bideleux, Ian Jeffries, 1998 While mainly focusing on the modern era the effects of ethnic nationalism fascism and communism this history also offers revisionist coverage of topics such as the Hussite Revolution and the rise and decline of the Polish Lithuanian Commonwealth Eastern Europe Since 1945 Geoff Swain, Nigel Swain, 2003

Fully updated to take account of new material and events since the publication of the second edition this new edition of Geoffrey and Nigel Swain's textbook traces the different patterns emerging in Central Europe and the Balkans. The authors draw a distinction between those countries where democracy and pluralism appear firmly established since the collapse of the Soviet Union and those where they do not. In order to have contemporary relevance the history of modern Europe must now include the rise and subsequent demise of the east-west division of the continent.

Philosophy, Society and the Cunning of History in Eastern Europe Costica Bradatan, 2013-09-13

Philosophy Society and the Cunning of History in Eastern Europe charts the intellectual landscape of twentieth-century East-Central Europe under the unifying theme of precariousness as a mode of historical existence. Caught between empires often marked by catastrophic historic events and grand political failures, the countries of East-Central Europe have for a long time developed a certain intellectual self-representation, a culture that not only helps them make some sense of such misfortunes but also protects them somehow from a collapse into nihilism. An interdisciplinary study of this sophisticated culture of survival and endurance has been long overdue. Not only is it charming and worth studying in its own right but with the reintegration of the new Europe into the old one and the emergence on the Western European intellectual scene of many authors from the East, such a culture will also shape the European mind of the 21st century. This volume decodes and explores this culture of precariousness from the complementary angles of philosophy, political theory, intellectual history, and literary studies. Expert contributors look at a wide range of topics from philosophical martyrdom to collective suffering to geographical fatalism and explore the works of key authors in the field, including Cioran, Kołakowski, Kertész, Bauman, and others. This book was originally published as a special issue of Angelaki: The Journal of the Theoretical Humanities.

The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe in the Global Economy Marie Lavigne, 1992-07-09

The Soviet Union and Eastern Europe are moving away from a centrally planned economy toward integration within the global economy. How did this transition begin? Is this an aim which all the countries can afford? What conditions are to be met so that the countries will achieve a level of development comparable with the average level of their industrial partners? In this 1992 volume leading international political economists from both the East and West provide an in-depth analysis of these questions. The contributors assess how the transition to the market requires liberalizing foreign trade, introducing convertibility, and transforming property structures, all of which are also part of the ongoing domestic reform. They also examine how these countries overcome their development lag and implement a restructuring policy.
